area and an enlarged lounge for physicians and medical library. B is an enlarged food service area. C is an ancillary services building and new main entrance. D is a 50-bed psychiatric hospital and E is a new power plant.

$18 million expansion of GC hospital

Plans for an $18 million renovation and enlargement project at St. Elizabeth Hospital are nearing completion, the chairman of the St. Elizabeth Hospital board of directors, Sister Isidore Lennon, announced today.

"CHI Systems, a health care consulting firm in Ann Arbor, Mich., surveyed the health needs and demands of the local community over a period of years. Its construction and renovation recommendations are based on that information," Sister Isidore commented.

Expansion in nuclear medicine, a high occupancy rate, addition of physicians' offices to the hospital complex, acquisition of sophisticated diagnostic equipment, an increase in community demands and growth in the size of the staffing are reasons cited for the building project by the CHI Systems study.

Following two applications, the Illinois State Health Facilities Planning Board has issued permits for the construction of a 50-bed psychiatric hospital and the renovation and enlargement of the medical records department, medical library and physicians' lounge.

The board of directors has retained the Architectural Firm of D.E.G. & Associates in St. Louis. The St. Louis-based firm of McBro will be the construction manager.

McBro is one of the most extensively experienced firms in hospital construction management and will bear primary responsibility for project organization, bringing it to the bid stage.

A third application to the Illinois State Health Facilities

Planning Board for further construction and renovation by the hospital is now complete.

Pending approval, plans would include remodeling and expansion of the dietary department from 11,000 square feet to 17,500 square feet; the enlargement is mostly in cafeteria seating.

Radiology department square footage is scheduled to increase from 12,400 to 21,000.

X-ray has seven examination rooms at present, and four new examination rooms and two new special procedure rooms are to be added.

Also, two new nuclear medicine rooms and one new ultra-sound room will be provided, as well as a room to house a soon-to-arrive EMI scanner.

$15 million suit over 'Mafia' link

Allegations of gangster involvement in past Quad-City area activities—said to have been authored by two Alton Telegraph reporters—are the basis of a $15 million lawsuit filed Wednesday against that publication by James C. Green and the James Green Construction Company, Inc.

The suit cites as exhibits memorandums to "Brian Conboy" of the U.S. Department of Justice in which "Mafia" and "Cosa Nostra" links are alleged. Named in the "confidential memos" are a number of past and present public officials, businessmen, union figures and hoodlums.

While the memorandums are dated in March 1969, Green did not learn of their existence until Sept. 12, 1976, the suit by Attorney Rex Carr asserts.

"Publication" is alleged, including specifically two letters "duly received by the said Brian Conboy, opened and read by him and his subordinates." It is contended that "the

Ambulance runs may be discontinued

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City Council members, told that the future of emergency ambulance service in the city and adjacent parts of the Quad-City area has reached a crucial stage, agreed Tuesday night that immediate action must be taken to resolve the problem.

As a result, Mayor Paul Schuler called a special council session at 7 p.m. today in the council chambers to determine what steps may be taken to guarantee continued emergency service for the city and area.

A threat that ambulance service now provided primarily in this area by Thomas Ambulance service will be discontinued "appears to be a firm commitment unless some kind of funding is provided to take up losses being incurred in operation of the present ambulance service," Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the council's traffic committee, told the council in a discussion of the problem Tuesday night.

Whitmer noted that he and the other traffic committee members—Aldermen Warren Decatur and Everett Morelen—had been instructed to check into the matter when it first came to the city's attention.

He said the committee met last week with Bob Thomas and Dave Partney of the Thomas service, and Leon Scroggins, their attorney, and was told that "it is definite the emergency service operated by Thomas will go out of business unless something is done."

Describing the matter as a "very critical problem," Whitmer told the council that they (the operators) convinced us that unless they get some (financial) help, they will stop all ambulance service in the area—not just in Granite City, but in all of the area where Thomas now makes emergency calls.

He noted that the problem

Student says he was hit

A Venice High School student said he plans to file a formal complaint with the Venice Board of Education during a meeting of the board on Wednesday, Feb. 2, against an employee of the school district for allegedly striking him about the face on two different occasions, the most recent during a locker room discussion prior to the 1976-77 basketball season.

Ron Salmond, a sophomore student and basketball player at Venice High School, told the Press-Record yesterday that the employee took him out of a class in October and took him to a locker room to inquire why Salmond would not participate

Sewer points answered

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A great deal of information was exchanged and numerous unresolved questions were answered when opponents and proponents of the proposed funding for new sanitary sewers for Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships met informally Tuesday afternoon at the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab engineering and consulting firm's office in Granite City.

Members of the Madison County special sewer committee attending the session were Chairman Walter "Dick" Sparks, Louis Whitell and Homer Boothman. Also answering questions about the sewers were Edward Juneau, chief engineer of the proposed sewers, and Harry Hartman, attorney for the sewer committee.

Attending to ask questions about the sewers were Mrs. Ruth Andrews and George Dyckman, who are among a small group suing the county to prevent sewer financing under the proposed method, and their attorney, Joseph Hill.

Their suit was rejected in Circuit Court, but has been appealed to the Illinois Supreme Court. Transcripts and other documents for that appeal now are being prepared.

The county proposes establishing a special service area of proposed sewer users and then taxing the property owners in that service area to repay $5 million in general obligation bonds which must be sold to pay the local share of the construction cost.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is holding a $12.5 million grant available until after the pending litigation has been resolved.

Bids for the construction have been received which were within the county's estimates and the project is ready to proceed, except for the lawsuit, which is enjoining the county from proceeding.

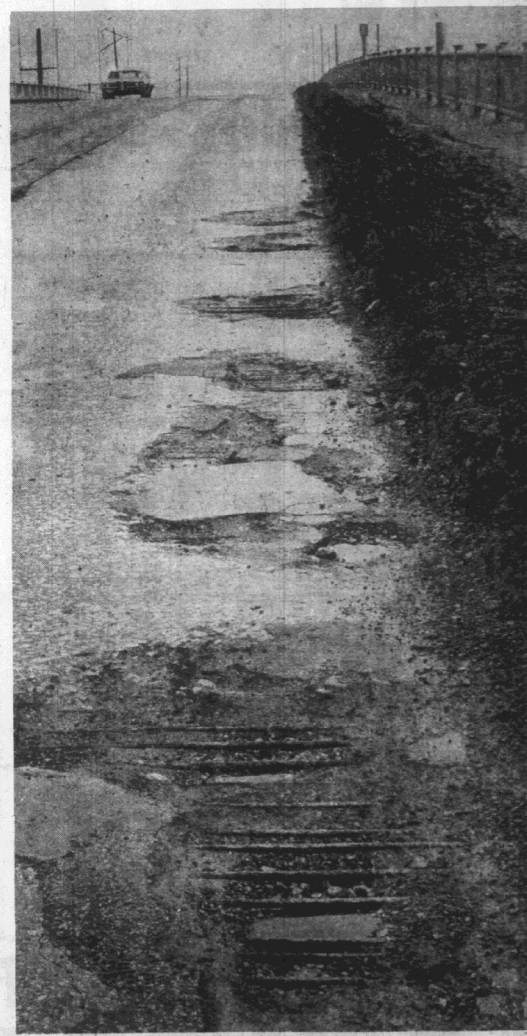

There is fear the contractors will not hold to their bid prices past Monday, which could require rebidding after the lawsuit is settled and the new bids may exceed the amount of money the program has available.

Tuesday's session, called at Dyckman's request, was believed to be a final attempt for the two sides to meet and discuss the issue before the construction bids expire.

Excerpts from that session follow. Each question and answer is preceded with the name of the person speaking.

Dyckman—"Why are there sewers proposed for so many undeveloped areas? Could we not save money by reducing the size of the area to be served?"

WEATHER TAKES ITS TOLL. Harsh winter weather and deep snow cover mixed with salt and chemicals create serious driving hazards on many Quad-City area streets. This view is of the right-hand eastbound lanes of Broadway in Venice near the top of the viaduct linking Venice and Madison. Areas of pavement have been broken out down to steel reinforcement rods, which can be seen. Similar areas on the westbound lanes have begun to crack and break as more salt is used to keep the viaduct passable.

Mr., Mrs. Edward Jarvis celebrate anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edward (Verna) Jarvis of Livingston, Ill., formerly of Granite City celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary during the weekend at a party held in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Riggs Weston, 1532 Joy Ave. They were married on Jan. 22, 1927, and resided in Granite City for 20 years prior to moving to Livingston in 1959. Mr. Jarvis is a retired employee of Granite City Steel.

Guests attending the event were Mr. and Mrs. William Jarvis and family, Kevin Weston, Cheryl and Larry Hutchison and sons, Marsha and Edward Weston, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Cunduff and Mr. and Mrs. Les Freeman.

Chapter notes tuition costs

"P.E.O. Then and Now" was the subject of a program presented by Mrs. Larry Dew, Monday evening, at a meeting of Chapter KU of the P.E.O. Sisterhood.

Mrs. Ray Schafer reported a tuition increase at Cottey College due to increased operational costs. She added that 68 per cent of the student body received some type of aid and the average scholarship or grant amounted to $849 last year.

There are 97 International, Peace Scholarship students representing 24 states, two provinces and 37 countries who attend various schools this year, according to a report by Mrs. Dale Mullen.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Wayne Carlisle, 3157 Davis Ave., for the meeting which was conducted by Mrs. Elmer Gruen, chapter president.

The hostess served a dessert luncheon to 14 members after the discussions. The next meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Calvin Bartels in her home, 2567 Waterman Ave.

MR. AND MRS. BESS VACATION IN FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bess, 428 Lincoln Ave., Venice, have returned to their home after a six week vacation in Florida. The family celebrated the Christmas holidays at Daytona Beach and were joined by a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cook of Miami, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Judd Dando and their twin daughters.

The remainder of the vacation was spent at Key West and Miami, and visiting cousins of Mrs. Bess at Port Meyers, Fla.

Disco dance workshop

When others are having fun on the dance floor, are you left sitting on the sidelines? Get back into the swing of things by enrolling in dance classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, a spokesman is urging.

During February and March, the Office of Conferences and Institutes at the university will offer classes in disco dancing, the swing and shag, and ballroom dancing. Two sections of each class will be available. Participants who sign up for disco dancing will learn contemporary "mod" dances, including the "hustle," "bus stop," "Kansas City shuffle" and "imperial swing." Section I will meet Tuesdays from 5:30 until 6:30 p.m., beginning Feb. 15 and continuing through March 15. Section II sessions on ballroom dancing will meet during the same hours, beginning Feb. 17 and continuing through March 17. Registration for either section is $8.

Following the Tuesday and Thursday night disco lessons, students can continue their dance instruction by signing up for the swing and shag workshop. Section I will meet Tuesdays from 6:30 until 8 p.m., beginning Feb. 15 and continuing through March 15. Section II sessions will meet Thursdays during the same hours, Feb. 17 through March 17.

Registration for either section of swing and shag is $15 per couple. Following the sessions on disco dancing and swing, a workshop on ballroom dancing will be offered. Students will learn to fox trot, waltz, rumba, cha-cha and polka. Section I of Tuesdays from 8 until 10 p.m., beginning Feb. 15 and continuing through March 15. Section II sessions on ballroom dancing will meet during the same hours, Feb. 17 through March 17.

Registration for either section of ballroom dancing will be $20 per couple. Instructor for all three mini-courses will be Pauline Caville, who firmly believes that anyone who can walk, can dance.

2 face gun charge

Troy Paul Maple, 26, and Chester Lee Eley, 43, both of St. Louis, were charged Monday with unlawful use of a weapon.

Pontoon Beach police stopped their auto on Pontoon Road at the Gaslight Shopping Center Friday after they allegedly drove past the Clark Service Station, 4001 Pontoon Road, several times with the headlights of their auto turned off.

Officers alleged finding a pistol on the floorboard of the auto and charged the two.

They pleaded innocent in court in Granite City Monday and bond was set at $7,500 each by Associate Judge Merlin Hiscott. They were taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 3:35 a.m. Tuesday in lieu of posting bond.

All classes will meet in Room 0033 of Lovejoy Library. Additional information on the courses may be obtained by contacting Bonnie Little in the Office of Conferences and Institutes, 692-2260.

65-degree thermostat settings urged in state

The State Energy Office, a division of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, has issued a plea that Illinois residents turn back their thermostats to 65 degrees.

State residents facing emergency fuel supply problems during the winter may call the "Energy Hot Line" (217-782-1986) for assistance from fuel allocation officers at the Energy Division headquarters.

The state's drug abuse treatment capacity has been increased by more than 325 treatment "slots" across the state through grants announced by the Illinois Dangerous Drugs Commission.

Federal anti-drug abuse funds were awarded to treatment programs in Elgin, Kankakee, Peoria, Carbondale and Chicago. The commission makes regular awards of state and federal funds to assist local-level agencies in the fight against drug abuse.

A statewide seminar to assist sewage treatment plant operators from all Illinois communities has been scheduled for tomorrow in Morton.

The seminar is sponsored by the Illinois Society of Water Pollution Control Operators in cooperation with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA). The IEPA sponsors frequent training sessions for officials engaged in pollution control.

Illinois residents on active duty in the U.S. armed forces aren't required to pay Illinois income tax on their military pay but they are required to file a state income tax return, according to state Revenue Director Robert M. Whittier.

Gov. James R. Thompson's Jan. 21 freeze on the hiring of employees in state agencies under his jurisdiction extends for an indefinite period. Thompson said the freeze is being implemented primarily because of the critical financial condition of the state.

The action covers agencies of state government affecting 60,000 positions, but will not interfere with the continuation of essential state services, the governor said. He estimated that the hiring freeze could save the state between $15 million and $20 million during the next year.

BOY BREAKS BONE

Brian Gipson, 15, Smithboro, Ill., was transferred from Greenville Hospital to St. Elizabeth Hospital, arriving at 7:30 p.m. Monday. He was admitted here with a fracture to his left thigh, suffered when he was struck by a car Monday evening.

Woman charged in shooting

Eugene Miller, 46, of 3250 Nameoki Road, suffered a gunshot wound to his right leg during a disturbance at his mobile home at 10 p.m.
Tuesday.

Mrs. Betty Sue Sharp, 36, whose address was the same address, has been charged with aggravated battery in connection with the shooting.

Mrs. Sharp's daughter, Trudy McCormick, 17, said she and a neighbor were at the mobile home when Miller and her mother entered. They were arguing, she told Madison County sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Sharp and Miller went in the kitchen where a loud disagreement continued for several minutes, the daughter related. She said her mother then came out of the kitchen, went into the master bedroom and returned with a cocked .25 caliber handgun.

Mrs. Sharp went back into the kitchen and the argument continued, it was reported.
While the daughter and neighbor were watching, it was alleged Mrs. Sharp fired the gun once, the bullet striking Miller's right leg. She allegedly fired a second time but the bullet missed him, deputies were told.

Miss McCormick alleged her mother then acted in a wild manner, waving the gun around the room. When Mrs. Sharp put the gun by her side, Miss McCormick and the neighbor
house where they called deputies.

Miss McCormick and the neighbor contacted Mrs. Sharp by telephone and said she was threatening to shoot anyone who entered the house to aid Miller.

The first deputy on the scene was advised that Mrs. Sharp's alleged statement and called for assistance and for an ambulance.

The neighbor continued to talk to Mrs. Sharp on the telephone, attempting to calm her down and talk her into allowing deputies and ambulance personnel into the house.

Deputy Leavitt convinced Mrs. Sharp to allow him to enter and he came back out about three minutes later, requesting one ambulance attempt to enter the home with him.

They then brought Miller out and he was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted.

Mrs. Sharp was arrested and taken to the sheriff's department at Edwardsville.

Multiple crashes due to icy roads

Icy road conditions throughout the Quad-City area were responsible for numerous auto accidents yesterday, especially in the unincorporated areas, Madison County sheriff's deputies and Illinois State Police troopers reported.

One patch of ice on Route 162
at the curve between Lake Drive and State Aid Route 35 was blamed for a series of accidents Wednesday, involving eight vehicles, including a squad car in which a deputy was injured.

The car of Sharon K.
Edwards, 403 Bruns Drive, Pontoon Beach, first went out of control on the icy curve and struck a ditch on the side of the road about 4:30 p.m.

Minutes later, the auto of Roger Carper, 3601 Lake Drive,
Joliet, was involved in a crash with a car driven by Brenda Sturgeon, S.D., collided on the curve after Carper's westbound auto spun around and collided with the other westbound car.

About the same time, the eastbound auto of Lorena Vento of Collinsville, saw a westbound auto crossing the center line and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted.

taken to the sheriff's department at Edwardsville.

Building materials, equipment exhibit

The Southern Illinois Builders Association (SIBA) will sponsor "Products Fair '77," a building equipment and materials exhibit, on Thursday, Feb. 10, at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville.

Scheduled from 5:30 p.m. to 10 p.m., it will be the first event of its kind sponsored by the SIBA and will feature S. Peter Volpe, senior vice-president of the Associated General Contractors of America (AGC), as guest speaker.

Volpe has been a member of the rules, ethics, transportation policy, Producers' Council, federal building procedures and many other national AGC committees and was elected chairman of the association's Building Division in 1972.

In addition to his national AGC duties, Volpe has held various positions in the AGC of Massachusetts since 1960 and is author of a book entitled "Construction Management Practice."

The exhibit will include 46 booths showing examples of the latest developments in products for the construction industry. The evening schedule includes open exhibits and a social hour, 5:30 p.m., dinner, 7 p.m., program and speaker, 8 p.m., and final exhibit session, 9-10 p.m.

Tickets for the event are $10 per person and are limited to individuals in the construction industry.

The 42 exhibits are: Paul Abt, Inc., Belleville Area College, Bergfeld Recreation, Bertio Rubber Stamp and Engraving, BiState Machinery, Brode Sales Engineering.

Chaney Fence Corp., Coal Belt Fire Equipment, Custom Molders, H. M. Dinzler Equipment, Directions (United East St. Louis Stone, Emergency Service Co., First National Bank, L. B. Foster Co., Vernon L. Goedecke Co., Goltzman & Sabo.

Granite City Fence, H. H. Hall Construction, Hellrung Construction, Hess Enterprises, Kit-Mo Rental & Supply, LePere Concrete Pumping, Mechanics Planning Mill, Mid-States Ready Mix, Mine Safety Appliances.

Mississippi Valley Steel, Missouri Illinois Tractor & Equipment, Murphy Co., National Association of Women Construction, National Electrical Contractors, National Industrial Supply, Quick Erectors, Ravensberg, Richards Brick Co., Don Schubert Enterprises.

Southern Illinois Lathing & Plastering Promotional Association, Southern Illinois Plate Glass, Swanson Concrete Products, Truss Components, Warning Lites of Illinois and Whisler Equipment Co.

Earthwatch scholarships

Applications for 1977 Earthwatch scholarships are being accepted by the Illinois Office of Education.

Furnas may be obtained from: Joyce Van Tassel, Gifted Coordinator, Illinois Office of Education, 100 N. First St., Springfield 62777. They must be in the return mail by Feb. 14 to qualify for the competition.

The scholarship program is open to any person 16 to 21 years old who is interested in participating in one of several scientific research expeditions. The program is sponsored by Earthwatch, a non-profit organization from Belmont, Mass., which supports field research projects primarily in archeology and the life sciences in the United States and abroad. Ten scholarship winners from Illinois entrants will be evaluated by members of the State Gifted Advisory Council at a screening session Feb. 18. All applications receiving a rating of "1" will be forwarded to the U.S. Office of Education for consideration in the scholarship selection process.

Demonstration at Dunbar school

Pupils had a "sweet time" in Edward Sido's fourth grade class at Dunbar School in Madison. The occasion was a visit and demonstration by Paul and Agnes Freeman of Busy Bee Bakery in Madison.

Freeman talked about the retail bakery business and Mrs. Freeman demonstrated the art of cake decorating. The children were given samples of bakery products and two cakes were awarded to members of the class. This visit was part of the career awareness program in Room 210 this year.

Classroom visitation is a part of the Business People Volunteer project of the STU Teacher Corps in Madison. Any business operators wishing to participate by either offering field trips to their place of business or by going to the schools for a classroom visitation may call the Teacher Corps Office at Harris School, 877-6664.

Local Lions to aid glaucoma detection

The mobile glaucoma screening unit operated jointly by the Lions Clubs of Illinois and the Department of Ophthalmology of the University of Illinois will be in the Quad-Cities Tuesday, Feb. 15.

The free screening unit will be in the parking lot at the Pontoon Beach Co-ordinated Youth Services (Village Hall building), 3809 Lake Drive, between 9 a.m. and noon. The unit will then move onto the parking lot at Schermer Brothers' Super Market, 1127 Madison Ave., Madison, from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m.

Jim Riskovsky is the sight conservation chairman for the Madison Lions Club and is being assisted by Tony Ansalmo, Jim Perdue, Travis Rash, Matt Ozanich and Salvador Demure.

Richard McIntosh is sight conservation chairman for the Pontoon Beach Club and is being assisted by Jerry Henderson and Loren Madison, both Lions and volunteer workers.

Joe Anne Elmore, Audrey Hart, Shirley Gaudette, Mary Warren, Judy Kopchek and Joyce Hastings.

Glaucoma is a serious eye disease which can lead to blindness if not detected in time, but with early detection the disease can be controlled. In addition to glaucoma tests, visitors to the unit also will be able to take a preliminary visual acuity test for other eye problems which need attention.

According to the Lions glaucoma generally manifests itself in adults. Its symptoms rarely are noticed until it has advanced to a dangerous stage, although it is detectable in earlier, treatable stages. The disease is not inherited, but it has a tendency to run in families.

Funds for buildings, equipment, drainage, security and sewers

The Madison County Community Development office has released final 1977 appropriations of funds for District Two, the Quad-City area, totaling $660,943.

Approved grant requests were: Chouteau Township, $46,482 toward a community center; Nameoki Township, $19,684 for new water lines to the Cloverleaf area, $15,000 as a down payment for a new Slate Park fire truck, $35,000 toward a new garage building for the Long Lake Fire Department, and $25,000 for sewer hookup fees for senior citizens.

Granite City, $24,027 for sanitary sewer reconstruction, and $125,000 to design and implement a security system for senior citizens; Venice Township, $16,287 for park improvements in Eagle Park Acres.

City of Madison, $39,434 for continuing urban renewal and $25,000 for firefighting equipment; Venice, $42,822 for sidewalk improvements, and Pontoon Beach, $26,207 for a surface drainage system north of Georgetown Drive, and $3,000 for street improvements.

The totals allocated for other districts were: District One (Alton, Wood River area), $960,430; District Three (Morton, Russell, Lee, townships), $111,667; District Four (Edwardsville, Collinsville, Glen Carbon area), $458,448; and District Five (Highland, Helvetia Township), $100,560. Final grants from 1977 discretionary funds totaling $175,000 also were announced. The city of Madison will receive $50,000 for housing rehabilitation, and Venice Township will receive $35,000 for improvement of the community center in Eagle Park

County Courthouse restrooms and improved accessibility to the building by the handicapped, $75,000; the road reference program, $25,000; low-interest housing rehabilitation, $60,000; recreation and sanitary facilities, $25,000; land acquisition, $60,952; and county bridges, $10,000.

Mothers' March Sunday in GC

March of Dimes leaders in Granite City are completing plans this week for the traditional "Mothers' Porchlight March" on Sunday, Jan. 30, to aid the fight against birth defects.

Mrs. Kathy Lane, Mothers' March chairman, today advised additional volunteer workers are needed to solicit contributions from families in their own neighborhoods.

"We especially need people in the areas of Nameoki, Frohardt and Parkview schools," she said.

Mrs. Lane urged individuals to call her at 581-2012 to offer their services for a short period of time on Sunday.

The Mothers' March chairman also asked area residents to "turn on a porch or outside light to brighten the path of the volunteer collectors."

Mrs. Wilma Herring, general chairman of the March of Dimes drive in Granite City, said the Mothers' March period has been extended through Saturday, Feb. 5.

She noted, however, that most volunteers will canvass their own neighborhoods during the day light hours Sunday.

Donations from schools, business firms, individuals and canisters will be collected through Feb. 5.

Birth defects claim 500,000 lives each year — 69,000 children and adults, plus an estimated 500,000 babies who die before birth as a result of defects.

At least 250,000 babies are born in the United States each year with significant defects, representing 700 a day or one every two minutes.

Birth defects are the nation's greatest destroyer of life after heart disease, and by conservative estimates, some 15 million Americans have one or more birth defects which affect their daily lives.

The network of Birth Defects Centers in hospitals throughout the country, established by the National Foundation of March of Dimes, is the hub of a new national effort to make early diagnosis, prompt and total care and rehabilitation available to every birth defects patient who needs it, Mrs. Herring stated.

"Let's all get out and help fight this major medical problem by asking our neighbors to help fund the research early diagnosis and comprehensive care needed by the birth defects patients," Mrs. Herring said.

BARGE LANES OPEN. A channel has been cut through the Chain of Rocks Canal southward to Granite City Locks No. 27, part of which may be seen at the far left. Channels also have been made into the Tri-City Regional Port area, at right, allowing barges to be moved for loading or unloading. Traffic still is slow and sparse since the barges cannot navigate southward past St. Louis because of ice blockage of the Mississippi River. Locks No. 27 has been averaging two to three light boats and three to four barges daily this week. (Press-Record Photo)

Couple is hurt

Patrick Powderly, 22, and Mrs. Pamela Powderly, 18, both of 2509a Grand Ave., were injured when Mr. Powderly became ill while driving his car west on 27th Street at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, and the auto went over the curb at State Street, struck a large tree. They went to St. Elizabeth's Hospital where Mr. Powderly was admitted for observation with injuries to his head and chest. Mrs. Powderly bumped her head on the windshield, fractured her left wrist and bruised her right knee. She was treated and released.

meaning and effect of the defamatory and false letters was that the plaintiff was involved in improper business operations and criminal activities in partnership with and/or controlled by criminals. It is asserted that "the defendants herein did compose and publish the said letters with a reckless disregard and carelessness as to the truth or falsity of such letters, indicating thereby an utter disregard of the rights of the plaintiff and of the consequences of the actions of these defendants, thereby maliciously impeaching the honesty, integrity, virtue and reputation of the plaintiff." The suit relates that "at the time of the publication of the said defamatory letters, the said James C. Green was the president of the James Green Construction Company, Green Highlight Company and other thriving companies dealing with the construction and development of building projects. "As a result of the publication of said false and defamatory letters, the ability of James Green and his companies to obtain financing for the various projects which he and his companies were developing was eliminated, canceled and vitiated, the development of said projects being thereby halted, resulting in the loss of large sums of money which he and his companies would have earned had the financing ability of the plaintiff and his companies not been harmed. "At the time of the acts complained of, plaintiff had enjoyed, in both his personal and business life, a good reputation for honesty, integrity and truthfulness. "By reason of the said reckless, malicious and careless acts of these defendants in publishing said false and defamatory letters, the plaintiff is entitled to recover not only his actual damages in the sum of $5,000,000 but an additional sum in punitive damages in the amount of $10,000,000.00. Not only did various Green companies collapse, but the former Piasa First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Alton failed and had to be merged into another savings firm after extensive public discussion of the high volume of business transactions between the two parties. Some allegations regarding Green and Piasa appeared in news media. The memorandums that were alleged in yesterday's lawsuit appear to go beyond such articles and to reach sweeping conclusions about various individuals and companies. Copies in the suit appear to include pages from Alton Evening Telegraph stationery. Typed signatures are of Joe Melesi and Bill Lhotka, listed as defendants along with their employer. Exhibit A is described as "a capsule report of possible connections between the Chicago family of the Cosa Nostra" and other parties. It mentions "vast sums of money funneled from Chicago through Southern Illinois" by a man who at one time ran a Quad-City tavern. He is alleged to have made a "$2 million deposit in December 1968 at Piasa." The memorandum tells of financing of apartment construction, new homes and commercial enterprises. Pipefitters, realtors, an alderman, building firms, a mobile home park and land transactions are discussed. In the exhibit, which Green contends is false and harmful, allegations include that loans for some projects were inflated to provide money with which to start new projects while initial sales were still pending. Exhibit A also recalls the September 1957 murder of William Harder "after talking to reporters about hoodlum activity in the carpenter union." A former Madison gambler is mentioned prominently, as is a construction employee described as the "number two crime boss" in Madison County. There also are allegations of "narcotics, car theft, burglary, prostitution, gambling, fencing stolen merchandise, primarily bars and TV sets, and other illegal interstate activity." "Cover" jobs in some building trades were used to explain the presence of "burners, hit men, dynamiters, etc.," Exhibit A contends. It

Rotary told Convention Center to benefit area

With the new convention center in downtown St. Louis scheduled to open in June this year, the Quad-City area can expect some economic benefits due to the large number of persons expected to attend events there, according to Rotarian Richard Kerch who spoke at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club. He gave a slide presentation on the new facility. Restaurants, motels, auto service stations and cab services are among the many businesses that will benefit from the Convention Center, according to Kerch. Rotary President Steve Bristol announced that 12 members have expressed an interest in attending a district conference March 25-27 in Jacksonville. Rotarian Walter Milton was appointed chairman of a membership drive to be held in February, March and April, with the top recruiter receiving a wristwatch from the Pepsi Cola Co. Bristol said the club hopes to recruit at least 15 new members. Rotarian Bob Jones reminded the members of the Friday, Feb. 11, "Sweetheart" dinner and dance scheduled at the Round Table Restaurant. Jones said reservations must be made in advance and guests are welcome. Cost of the event is $9 per person.

Lake Park development lags

Land acquisition and site development at Horseshoe Lake State Park has come nearly to a standstill until July, due to a lack of funds.

A spokesman for the Illinois Department of Conservation told the Press-Record Tuesday that a total of 1,940.66 acres of the 3,300 acres proposed for the park has been purchased.

Negotiations are continuing on a few other small parcels and some are in condemnation suits, but no major increases can be anticipated until the new state fiscal year begins July 1, if new funds are made available.

The legislature did not allocate any funds for land acquisition during the 1976-77 fiscal year. All acquisitions this year have been accomplished with funds carried over from the previous fiscal year.

Most of those funds have been expended and land acquisition is nearly at a standstill, the spokesman said. Only about 12 parcels of property have been acquired at Horseshoe Lake since August, he added.

The project may gain some additional roadway property if the Madison County Board agrees to vacate the roadway on the northeast corner of the lake from the Vesel Inc. beer distributing warehouse to the lake. The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors gave its approval Monday night to vacating that roadway for use in the state park. The Department of Conservation spokesman said a $460,000 project to reconstruct the causeway, construct an access road and provide parking areas on the island is under way and the public will be invited to use those facilities as soon as that work is completed. Eleven duck blinds have been made available to hunters by the conservation officials and bank fishing is allowed on any parcels owned by the state. Persons may direct inquiries about where fishing is legal and what lands may be used for picnics or other activities to the acting site superintendent, Joe Webb, at 344-5268, the spokesman said. A 10 by 55 foot mobile home on one of the parcels the state purchased will be auctioned to the public at 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 12, on the former Ray Synaks property in Clearview Acres. The mobile home will be open for inspection Thursday, Feb. 10, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. The minimum bid will be $100. A house on another parcel was auctioned last week and

Are restaurant food portions too large?

By BARB MAYER
Do restaurants serve their patrons too much food? Yes, says Nancy Harvey, a consumer advocate and specialist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

She reports one of the top complaints about restaurants today is not high prices but too much food for the average appetite.

She says consumers feel guilty when they can't clean their plates and frustrated when they must order and pay for food they can't possibly finish. She maintains restaurants should offer a variety of portions and prices to accommodate lighter eaters and reduce waste.

A sampling of restaurants in the area indicates managers are aware of the differing needs of their customers and are trying to size their portions accordingly.

Ambulance

came to the city's attention more than a month ago when Thomas asked city officials to meet with him concerning the matter of ambulance service.

Whitmer and his committee later met with Bob Thomas and reported in a caucus session Jan. 18 that Thomas asked the city to provide a subsidy that would make up the loss the ambulance service is incurring in operation of its service.

Whitmer told the council that "after last week's meeting (in caucus) there was no further discussion of the matter on the council floor, so my committee met Thursday (Jan. 20) with Thomas, Parney and Scroggins."

"That is when they told us definitely that there will be no ambulance service if they can't make up the losses they are encountering, I am convinced they mean what they say."

The alderman said he was aware of an opinion by City Attorney George Fife that the city cannot legally subsidize the operation of a private business.

He read a section of the Illinois Statutes providing that a municipality may levy a tax of 1.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation to "contract" for ambulance service, if such tax is authorized by a referendum vote.

"I didn't know until I read in the paper that Mayor Schuler had applied for a grant to aid in the purchase of four ambulances," Whitmer said. "This raises the question as to whether or not the city intends to go into the ambulance business."

"It also raises the question as to what our (traffic) committee is supposed to do. 'Is the administration going to handle this, or is the committee to keep on working on it? We need to know just what we should do.'"

Whitmer warned that "if the city is going into the ambulance business, then you had better check out the matter of whether we would have service just here in Granite City, or for areas outside the city, too. We had better check this out carefully."

Mayor Schuler replied that he thought he had made himself clear during the caucus meeting on Jan. 18 that he and other officials had been looking into the problem and means of solving it.

"We applied for a grant toward the purchase of four ambulances just in case this problem gets dumped in our lap," he said.

"Naturally, there is the question as to whether Granite City could pay for operation outside Granite City."

"I doubt if people in Granite City would pay for operation outside the city. There has to be a lot of consideration given this problem before we jump into it," the mayor added. "This has been going on for three years."

Whitmer replied that the committee was taking action and operators do not expect the full consideration of financial help to come from Granite City.

"They told us (the traffic committee) that they plan to go to Nameoki Township, to Madison and the other areas affected by ambulance service, including the county," Whitmer said. "I agree that Granite City cannot go alone on this."

Alderman Steve Basarich of the Fifth Ward told the council: "I can remember when Mercer's and Thomas used to fight one another to get to an accident first, so there must be some kind of money in that business."

"If there is a squeeze to get money out of us, then let them go out of business if they want to."

Alderman Decatur of the Fourth Ward, a member of the traffic committee, said he has "had a lot of apprehension about this. I don't think they (Thomas) want to go out of business, but they may be forced out."

"They indicated in the meeting that they will go to Madison, Nameoki and other officials. If the city is to get money from the government for ambulances, then I am sure we would have to cover the entire area."

Whitmer suggested that another meeting be held to discuss the problem as early as possible, resulting in the mayor's call for tonight's special meeting.

Gene Bogdan of a Holiday Inn notes portions have become smaller over the years because people are becoming more weight-conscious.

"We got a lot of people who order a half-portion, and we try to accommodate them whenever possible," he said.

Special menus for children and senior citizens are another way of satisfying all age groups.

"We have a senior citizens' menu with smaller portions and lower prices because people in this age group just don't need that much to eat," Bogdan said.

And doggie bags are always available to the diner whose eyes prove to be bigger than his stomach.

Jim Altieri, another restaurant owner, believes most restaurants over feed their customers.

"I think restaurants are overconscious of feeding the big eater," he said. "They don't want anybody to walk away hungry."

He offers a special children's menu. Waste is not a problem, Altieri said, but "we use a lot of doggie bags."

He sees a need for smaller portions but says this would be difficult to implement for restaurants with extensive menus.

"Unless you're in the industry, you can't imagine the confusion in the kitchen that would result from this," he said.

Steve Keller says patrons in his restaurant usually finish their meals and waste is not a problem.

"We do have children's portions," he said. "And we offer a butt steak in three different sizes and a filet in two different sizes."

A number of customers take advantage of doggie bags, he said—not to bring food home, but to bring barbecue rib bones home to their pets.

Detectives here allege the two took a Jeep from Crismon Motors on Nameoki Road Jan. 13. The Jeep was recovered in St. Charles. It had been wrecked and its wheels and tires had been sold, it was alleged.

Griffin and Dean appeared before Associate Judge Merlin Hiscott at 5 p.m. Tuesday and each was released on a $7,500 recognizance bond.

An unknown amount of Indian jewelry and a radio were stolen from a store at 2818 Nameoki Road, operated by Betty Pinkerton. It was discovered at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Glass in the rear door was broken, but a dead bolt lock kept the door from being opened. A plexiglass window then was broken to gain entry. The desk in the back room and shelves in the front of the store were ransacked. The missing jewelry was mainly earrings and necklaces. Two dozen pet rocks in the shapes of dogs and frogs also are missing. An inventory is being conducted to determine if anything else was stolen.

New approach in River Fest planning; top posts go to Cassens, Karandjeff

Resolutions to continue the Mississippi River Festival (MRF) and to make changes in Festival programs while reducing operating costs in the 1977 season were approved Tuesday by the board of directors of MRF, Inc.

The board also elected new officers and directors and approved three amendments to the corporation's bylaws and a memorandum of understanding between the MRF Board and the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University.

As a result of the actions, the Festival staff will begin program scheduling for the eight-week summer series of music, dance, theater and film programs on the campus of SIU at Edwardsville.

Andrew J. Kochman, who was designated by the SIU Board of Trustees in December to plan and develop a year-round performing arts program on the SIUE campus, to include the MRF, said he will seek approval of the Board of Trustees in February of a planned relationship between the Festival and SIUE with emphasis on fiscal accountability and improving the image of the Festival.

Lyle Ward, managing director of the Festival, said, "We will insist on the fiscal integrity of the operation, and we will make changes in program direction and content which will insure acceptance of the Festival by the community."

Ward explained that the number of events will be reduced from the 52 of last year to 42 this season, with eight less contemporary programs.

He said competition in the contemporary music field has increased in the St. Louis area, and it no longer is practical to schedule two nights of contemporary music each week.

The MRF Board received reports indicating steps are being taken to reduce the $124,242 deficit incurred by the Festival last year, when attendance was affected by inclement weather and several incidents. Ward said an emergency grant of $17,500 has been approved by the National Endowment for the Arts and, with available cash on hand, external vendors will receive partial payments of 34 per cent of what is owed to them.

The SIUE portion of the deficit, $63,705, is currently being held on accounts receivable pending the outcome of a special Festival Assurance Fund Drive being conducted by MRF, Inc.

Ward said funding proposals totaling $54,000, representing matching contributions to the National Endowment emergency grant, have been presented to regional organizations and individuals.

A National Endowment Challenge Grant of $50,000 also is being sought by the Festival. Ward said the River Festival will schedule contemporary events which will draw crowds averaging 8,000 to 9,000, with maximum attendance of 15,000 to 17,000 persons as opposed to the potential of 25,000 to 30,000 expected for some rock programs in past seasons.

He said the level of subsidy required for fine arts programming will be reduced by changing the program content of symphony concerts and making a major effort to increase attendance, as well as scheduling dance and theater events in smaller and less expensive facilities.

Expenditures for conductors, soloists, jazz series, program book production, film rentals and chamber performers will be reduced, he said.

Ward added that the Festival will continue its commitment to increasing formal and informal instructional programs, including expansion of the Summer Music Institute, dance residency programs and lectures by performing artists.

Efforts also will be made to increase the level of contributed income, specifically from foundations and new grant programs on the federal level, as well as increased involvement of board members in the solicitation campaign, Ward said.

The MRF Board voted to name the university the general operating agent of the Festival, and the Executive Committee of MRF, Inc., was authorized to approve "refinements" in the memorandum of understanding which may result from continuing negotiations between the MRF Board and the university's Board of Trustees.

Changes approved in the corporation's bylaws include provisions that at least six faculty or staff members of SIUE to serve on the MRF, Inc. Board, that two faculty or staff board members will serve on the executive committee, and that the managing director of the Festival will be the executive vice-president of MRF, Inc.

Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, new president of SIUE, told the MRF directors he is "delighted with the new approaches proposed for the Festival. "This community has come to depend on the Festival for cultural enrichment, and it appears that a viable operation has been proposed for this year," he said.

The newly-elected officers of MRF, Inc. are: Albert Cassens, Edwardsville, chairman of the Board; Ernest A. Karandjeff, Granite City, president; Lyle W. Ward, Glen Carbon, executive vice-president; Michael Wjurski, St. Louis, C. E. Townsend, Granite City, William Tarwater, Glen Carbon, and Richard W. Shomaker, St. Louis, vice-presidents; Russell C. Solomon Jr., St. Louis, Dr. William Tarwater, Glen Carbon, Dr. Albert W. Triant, Granite City, Ben H. Wells, St. Louis and Donald R. Marshall (ex-officio), Alton. Directors elected to terms expiring in 1979-80 are: James McKay, KMOX-TV, Harold Patton, Edwardsville,

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon, Belleville, Mrs. H. C. Griggs, St. Louis, Frank B. Hamlin, Edwardsville, Ernest A. Karandjeff, Granite City, Mrs. Robert H. Lewis II, Alton, Lee E. Long, Carbondale, Cong. Paul Simon, Carbondale, Edwin J. Spiegel Jr., St. Louis, Dr. William Tarwater, Glen Carbon, Dr. Albert W. Triant, Granite City, Ben H. Wells, St. Louis and Donald R. Marshall (ex-officio), Alton. Directors elected to terms expiring in 1979-80 are: James McKay, KMOX-TV, Harold Patton, Edwardsville, Mrs. Homer E. Sayad, St. Louis, James A. VanSant, St. Louis and Lyle W. Ward, Glen Carbon. Directors elected to terms expiring in 1978-79 are: David C. Huntley, Edwardsville, Joseph E. Pival, Edwardsville, John A. Regnell, Edwardsville, and William W. Vilhauer, Collinsville. Three SIUE students were elected to two-year terms on the board. They are: Dennis Crook, Belleville, L. D. Ward, East St. Louis, and Cynthia Huckelberry, Granite City.

Nameoki acts to solve Route 162 parking problem

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night requested the township's highway commissioner, Albert Bell, to institute necessary legal action to remove a no parking sign on Eduardo Drive at Route 162.

Removing the sign will allow the diagonal parking of about 10 cars at the side of the road for patrons of Groucho's Tavern. Parking has been a problem in that area for many months and some residents are objecting to cars parked in front of driveways and along the edge of Route 162.

Trustees Norman Hessler and W. Lee Adams said they have talked to residents of homes near Groucho's and said they would agree to having the one sign nearest Route 162 removed, if it would ease the parking problems in the area.

Hessler made a motion to authorize Bell to remove the sign, and Township Supervisor Louis Whittle ruled the motion out of order, saying the town board could not authorize traffic matters. They must be instituted by the highway commissioner, he contended.

Township Attorney H. Carl Runge Jr. agreed with Whittle, saying a formal written opinion has been prepared holding that the town board can not authorize or remove traffic controls.

Hessler then amended his motion to one requesting Bell meet with his attorney and take the necessary steps to remove the sign. The board unanimously approved the motion.

Miss Vogeler dies at 92

Miss Mollie Vogeler, 92, a resident at the Madison County Nursing Home, Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, died at 5:35 p.m. Monday at the nursing home.

She was born in Belleville and resided in the Quad-Cities all her life.

Survivors include one brother, Gottlieb Vogeler of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

GC buys snow plows

Purchase of two snow plow attachments for Granite City street department trucks was authorized by the City Council Tuesday night.

The plow blades were acquired from the Transportation Equipment Co. of Vandalia, Ill., on a low bid of $2,303 for each plow. The price included installation cost.

Two other firms bidding to furnish the plow attachments were the Municipal Supply Co., Edwardsville, $2,406 each, with additional installation cost of $94 for each blade, and the H. M. Dinsler Equipment Co. of St. Louis, $4,409 for each blade, installation cost included.

Council members agreed in their Jan. 18 meeting to buy the two snow plows after more than 17 inches of snow had fallen during the first half of the month, creating problems for the street department in clearing streets. The city has had no snow plows, but used streetgraders to clear heavy snowfalls.

City Street Superintendent Lionell Portell said that clearing streets can be done much faster with plows than by using the heavier street graders. City officials also indicated they will map a "snow route" which will set priorities for streets to be cleared.

Council members Tuesday night also approved a motion by Alderman Curtis Blevins, chairman of the buildings committee, to pay $1,500 to M. W. Architects-Engineers of St. Louis to update the city's application for federal funds to finance construction of a city building complex.

Blevins told the council that the M. W. engineering firm had prepared the city's first portfolio of information and application forms for a grant under the federal Public Works Act. The city requested $1.6 million for the building complex, but was among the communities whose applications were turned down.

"It is obvious there will be another public works program of about $4 billion and we want to be among the first with renewed applications," Blevins said.

Rites conducted for father of GC man

Funeral services were conducted at 1 p.m. Wednesday at a Belleville funeral home for Edward C. Cange, 66, of Belleville, father of Malvin Cange of Granite City.

Mr. Cange died Sunday at Memorial Hospital, Belleville. Other survivors include his wife, Mrs. Beulah M. Cange, three daughters, two sons and one brother.

TV hours for children exceed classroom time

Jack Witkovsky, chairman of the State Board of Education, and Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin testified Tuesday at National Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations hearings on television that "television has serious educational impact."

Speaking as a citizen and parent, and not as chairman of the State Board of Education, Witkovsky expressed concern that television has "created a situation where the distinguishable line between fantasy and reality is disappearing."

In answer to the question of whether some group should take the responsibility for controlling television violence, Witkovsky responded with "a most emphatic NO." He added, "I am opposed to censorship of any kind, because once we decide that something ought to be censored, the censoring committee can become too powerful."

State Supt. Cronin called on parents and teachers to "consciously get involved with helping children cope with television viewing."

He noted, "The typical 17-year-old has watched television for 15,000 hours but sat in school for only 11,000 hours." Dr. Cronin added, "During the past 15 years we've lost the battle over which medium has the more time for messages—school or television. Teachers work 180 days, while the tube conveys images for 365."

In their effort to get parents involved, Dr. Cronin and Witkovsky announced the release of a new brochure—"Television and Your Children!"

The pamphlet is designed to improve the television habits of children and recommends a balanced "diet" of reading, viewing and athletics.

It also is designed to help teachers teach how news is selected, how commercials are made, and how women and men are portrayed on television.

Plan parochial seminar Feb. 1
Sister Helena, OP, of the Office of Religious Education in Springfield, Ill., will conduct a seminar from 1 to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 1, at St. Joseph Church.

All teachers, principals, pastors and assistant pastors in the Quad-City parochial school system are to attend, it was noted. According to the announcement, there should be 82 local persons at the educational meeting.

Parochial students in the Quad-City area will be dismissed at noon for the day and will report on Wednesday for a full-day session, it was noted. No lunches will be served Tuesday.

3 in state hoop shoot

Three Granite City girls will represent this area Saturday in the state finals of Elks "hoop shoot" free throw competition at Lakeland Junior College in Mattoon starting at 1 p.m.

The three, who earned their way into the statewide meet with age group wins here in local competition and at Pana in a district meet, are:

Elaina Reinagel, nine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reinagel, 84-year-old owner.

Gina Graham, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Graham, 10-11 group, and her sister, Nita Graham, 13, in the 12-13 group.

YMCA swim club 185-168 victor in dual meet here

Venice vs. hosts in Sparta tourney

Venice High School cagers will clash with the Sparta Bulldogs tomorrow in a 7 p.m. consolation bracket contest of the 13th annual Sparta Mid-Winter Basketball Classic.

The Venice Red Devils fell into consolation competition following a first-round 85-55 loss Tuesday night to the Okawville Rockets.

A win tomorrow would advance Venice into a contest with either Trico (Campbell Hill) or Waterloo High at 6 p.m. Saturday, with the winner claiming consolation honors. The latter two teams met in a consolation game tonight at seven o'clock.

Competition opened Monday, evening with Marissa beating Trico 76-47 and Freeburg defeating Waterloo 70-52.

A contest Tuesday, night to the Venice-Okawville game, saw Red Bud defeat Sparta 60-59.

Marissa and Freeburg met at 8:30 tonight in a semifinal game, and Red Bud and Okawville clash in another semifinal contest at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The two semifinal winners will play for the tournament championship at 9 p.m. Saturday. A third-place game is set for 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Red Devils kept the game with Okawville close through the opening two quarters, trailing 19-17 and then 41-36. But

Warriors, Steelers to renew basketball rivalry Saturday

The annual GCHS South vs. GCHS North cag clash Saturday evening in the Granite City Memorial gymnasium at eight o'clock will offer Coach Don Deterding's Warriors a possible opportunity to end a string of frustrating losses at the hands of Coach William "Bill" Ohlendorf's Steelers.

The first contest between the two Granite City schools was played during the 1973-74 season when North High was a brand-new school, following the fall 1973 division into two high school zones in the school district.

The Warriors won the initial game 46-37, but North has been dominant thereafter — 52-44 in the 1974-75 season and 48-49 in the 1975-76 season as well as averaging the initial loss by beating South 65-63 in overtime in opening-round competition of the 1973-74 Class AA regional tournament.

"This game probably means more to me than anyone else," Deterding comments.

"The Warriors are my charges, but I know most of the North players from having been at that school for the past three years." He was the North athletic coordinator in the school's first three years.

Although the Steelers entered the game with five wins against 10 losses, and South has an 8-9 record, North High may have a slight advantage over the Warriors in that everyone is healthy.

Three Warriors are recuperating from recent injuries or illnesses, but are scheduled to see action.

John Slay, a 6-4 junior, recently battled pneumonia. Terry Angle, a 6-3 junior, made a comeback during the weekend after being ill since Dec. 11. And Tom Henrich, a 5-8 junior, is still nursing a slightly sprained ankle.

Though Angle sat at the sidelines or at home during eight of South's contests while recuperating, he is still second in Warrior scoring with 390 points.

Slay tops the list of scorers with 261 points, and Henrich is third with 171.

Nine other players have contributed points thus far during the season.

David Rhodes has 133, Greg Feigl 53, Tim Anderson 44, Roland Hart 42, Terry Jones 33, Jeff Parker 14, John Lakin 13, Jay Huebner 12 and Tom Mahi six.

South opened the current season with a "bang," taking second-place in the Bridgeport tournament by defeating Marshall 62-56 and then Edwards County High 74-64 before bowing 72-63 to Red Hill in the championship game.

The Warriors proceeded to win three in a row — 68-67 over Taylorville, 78-41 over Triad and 48-47 over Jerseyville — before losing 51-48 to Quincy, Notre Dame.

A 49-42 win over Belleville West and a 55-39 win over St. Louis Rosary High preceded five straight losses by the Warriors.

South bowed 75-65 to Belleville East, 78-61 to Madison, 59-40 to Kankakee Westview, 72-57 to Herscher High and 64-46 to Cahokia.

The Cahokia game evened South's record at seven wins and seven losses before South gained a 64-60 decision over Bethalto. South has lost its last two games — 81-58 to McCluer North and 61-54 to St. Teresa of Decatur.

Coach Ohlendorf hopes for "history to repeat itself."

Ohlendorf was referring to North's 3-1 record against the Warriors.

The Steelers have had only one player this season to be sidelined with an injury. Jerry Barnett, 6-5 senior, sprained his knee on Jan. 15 in a contest against Edwardsville but missed only one contest before returning to score more than 20 points in each of two games.

Barnett heads North's individual scoring with 262 points.

Rodney Wortham, a 6-4 senior, is the only other North player to put more than 200 points on the scoreboard thus far, with 212.

Contributing to North's total points earned are Bob Schefne with 93, Brian Smith 75, Rick Willard 57, Chris Page 30, Alan Warfield and Brad Gauen 29 each, Gary Paul 22, Randy Vandergriff, Dennis Page and Bob Batey four each and Don Cook two points.

North has controlled the boards in six of its contests and pulled down the same number of rebounds as the opponents in one other game.

The Steelers started the 1976-77 season with a 60-49 loss to Belleville East and then bowed twice in contests decided by only one point — 53-52 to Alton and 49-48 to Wood River.

North won two in a row, 64-47 over East St. Louis Assumption and 57-42 over Alton.

An 84-48 loss to undefeated Collinsville preceded a 70-46 setback by Mendota in the first round of the Illinois State Classic at Normal. North next beat Central Catholic 57-53 before losing 60-49 to Galesburg in the tourney.

Four consecutive losses started 1977 for the Steelers — 56-48 to Mater Dei, 57-51 to Roxana, 75-71 to Edwardsville and 77-63 to Centralia, the latter in the Belleville East tournament.

The Steelers rebounded with two straight wins in the East meet to claim consolation honors — 60-48 over Triad and 68-49 over St. Louis Roosevelt.

Advance tickets are available in the main office of each high school for students only during lunch periods at 75 cents each.

Non-student tickets can be obtained at the gymnasium door Saturday night at a cost of $1.50. Student tickets also can be obtained at the door.

Warrior and Steeler fans holding season passes will have those passes honored at the door.

County's junior high cage tournament here next week

Coolidge Junior High School will host the 1977 version of the Madison County Junior High School Conference eighth grade basketball tournament starting Monday, with eight teams participating.

Virgil Kambarian of Coolidge, tournament manager, has announced that all games will be played in the Grigsby Junior High School gymnasium due to prior commitments at the Coolidge facilities.

Defending tourney champion Edwardsville will play Prather at 6:15 p.m. Monday to open the action, followed at 8 p.m. Monday by a contest between Grigsby and Webster of Collinsville.

On Tuesday, Feb. 1, Madison plays Roxana at 6:15 p.m. and North of Collinsville clashes with Coolidge at 8 p.m.

Two semifinal contests are slated for Wednesday, Feb. 2, with Monday's winners meeting at 6:15 p.m. and Tuesday's victors clashing at 8 p.m.

The tournament will conclude Thursday, Feb. 3, with a third-place contest at 6:15 p.m.

FENCING COURSE TO BE OFFERED DURING WINTER

A course titled "Fundamentals of Foil Fencing" will be offered at SIUE. The course is open to SIUE students, staff and faculty and to members of the community without charge. Registration will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday, Jan. 31, in Room 0207 in Building II (next to Peck Building) on the SIUE campus.

Registration will be limited. The course will begin Monday, Feb. 7 at 7 p.m. and continue for ten consecutive weeks, 7 to 8:30 p.m.

White Sox became the 'Black Sox' in Illinois 58 years ago (Sangamon State University) Baseball, many believed, became the national game as a result of the inspiration, and like Americanism itself was beyond reproach.

While knowledgeable baseball fans recognized incidents of corruption in the game during the previous 40 years, of 1919 shattered the faith of thousands, and was portrayed for decades as baseball's single sin.

The 1919 World Series matched manager William (Kid) Gleason's Chicago White Sox against the Cincinnati Reds managed by Pat (Whiskey) Face Moran.

Owner Charles Comiskey boasted a Sox team laden with purchased stars, including second baseman Eddie Collins (for an unprecedented $140,000), hard-hitting outfielder Joe Jackson, pitcher Ed Cicotte, catcher Ray Schalk and infielder Buck Weaver.

The only major problem seemed to be the resentment of the polished, well-paid, team captain, Collins, by first baseman Chick Gandil, pitcher Claude "Lefty" Williams and a number of others.

But the cliquishness did not keep them from being heavily favored to defeat the young and inexperienced Cincinnati team.

The official account of the best-of-nine games Series shows the Reds winning the first two, Chicago the third, Cincinnati the fourth and fifth by shutout scores. Chicago the sixth and seventh, with the final two games scheduled for Chicago and star pitcher "Lefty" Williams ready to work for the Sox.

To the amazement of many, Williams gave up four runs in the first inning and Chicago went on to lose the game and the Series.

Humors immediately spread that gamblers paid certain White Sox players to lose games.

The Spalding Guide for 1920 noted "rumors of collusion." Hugh Fullerton, a syndicated sportswriter assisted by the great pitcher Christy Mathewson, published a series of articles in the New York World detailing the fix.

Owner Comiskey apparently learned of the plot and considered holding up Series checks and contracts for 1920 to suspected players.

Failing to act, however, he was not really surprised to learn of additional corruption during the 1920 season.

As it drew to a close, gambler Bill Maharg revealed details of the 1919 Series in a spectacular story for the Philadelphia North outfielders Oscar "Happy" Felsch; pitchers Williams and Cicotte; and utility man Fred McMullin.

They told their story to the grand jury, and Cicotte even admitted making additional money betting on the Reds to win.

In June 1921, a bizarre trial was held in Chicago. Unbelievably, the players' confession to the grand jury disappeared, enabling them to repudiate their stories.

The resultant verdict of "not guilty" brought cheers from spectators.

But the final word came from newly-appointed baseball Commissioner Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

He barred all players from baseball for life. They became the "Black Sox," shunned by organized baseball and refused pardons by the commissioner.

Many felt the solution unjust, depriving the players of their civil rights.

Others thought Comiskey could have headed off the entire matter early and was the real culprit.

In any case, Landis remained commissioner from 1920 to 1944, striving mightily to portray the incident as the only breach of ethics in the history of the game and dedicating himself to keeping the Sox clean.

Letter winner on championship team

Robert Houbrouser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Houbrouser, 2231 Pontoon Road, Granite City, has been awarded a varsity letter for his participation on the 1976 Knox College football team.

A 1975 graduate of Granite City High School North, he was one of 56 athletes to earn a football award.

The Swarth posted a 7-1-1 season record, their best since 1928, and the best football record of any college in Illinois this season.

Knox finished as tri-champion of the Midwest Conference, sharing the crown with Monmouth and Cornell colleges.

This year also saw Knox defeat Monmouth in the "battle for the bronze turkey" for the first time in 10 years.

Founded in 1837, Knox is one of the oldest private, co-educational liberal arts colleges in the Midwest. Its "Old Main" administration and classroom building is a national historical site and the only remaining site of the Lincoln-Douglas debates.

Knox is a member of the American Colleges of the Midwest and the Midwest Collegiate Athletic Conference.

Home sales 'strong'

Sales of both used and new single-family homes continued at strong levels across the United States as 1977 drew to a close, according to the latest status report of the National Association of Realtors.

On a seasonally adjusted annual rate basis, 3,320,000 existing homes were sold in November at a total market value of $142.4 billion, the association's Department of Economics and Research says. In releasing the data, H. Jackson Pontius, association executive vice-president, said "Early figures for December suggest there was a further sharp gain. Sales activity should be in the 3,550,000 to 3,600,000 range on a seasonally adjusted annual rate basis.

"The December pace will easily outdistance September, the previous record month, when a pace of 3,350,000 was established."

The new home market remains healthy, the report says. On an annualized basis, 686,000 new single-family homes were sold in November, just under the October pace of 729,000. Sales activity for the year should surpass 600,000 units for the second best year in the 13-year history of the report. In spite of cold weather in December, housing starts increased 13.1 per cent over November. On an annualized rate basis, 1,940,000 housing starts were recorded in the last month of the year. The figure includes both single and multi-family starts.

The multi-family rate of 617,000 units recorded in December is 28.8 per cent above November. The single-family rate of 1,323,000 is seven per cent above the previous month's pace. The report says that the strong pace of new home construction during the last quarter of the year made 1976 the best year for private housing starts since 1973. Private housing starts totaled 1,540,000 in 1976, an increase of 32.8 per cent over 1975.

For all of last year, single-family construction advanced 30.4 per cent to 1,163,000 units. Multi-family starts totaled 377,000 for the year, an increase of 40.7 per cent over 1975. The mortgage market continues to look bright in view of continuing strong flows of deposits into federally-insured savings and loan institutions and mutual savings banks, the report said.

New net savings of $2.4 billion in savings and loan associations in November are a record for the normally slow month, surpassing the previous November peak recorded in 1975 by 15 per cent. Mutual savings banks recorded inflows of $575 million in October, almost double the previous peak for the month, set in 1972.

Yields at the Jan. 10 "Fannie Mae" conventional mortgage auction edged upward, reversing the trend of the last half of 1976. The average yield for commitments on conventional mortgages increased to 8.812 per cent, with a range of 8.756 to 9.003 per cent. The average yield at the previous auction held on Dec. 27 was 8.756.

Sobol Realty leads in sales

At a luncheon meeting for John Sobol Realty Associates, bonus checks were presented by John Sobol to Jim Honnoll, Jim Jeffries Sr. and Bill Turpenf, sales associates, to Kathy S. Smith, office assistant.

Sobol announced new sales records for the firm were set during 1976 and that according to statistics compiled from Granite City's Multiple Listing Service, the firm was number one in sales for the second year in a row.

He said the company has completed negotiations to represent builders and developers to sell 25 or more new homes during 1977. All forecasts point to a banner year for the residential real estate industry, he said. The forecast is based on an ample supply of cheaper mortgage loan funds and an increased demand for housing from buyers in all categories.

Sobol attributed a good portion of the company's business to its membership in Realty USA, a national real estate franchise and referral system, which helps locate incoming buyers from throughout the country.

Enrollment appointments

Appointment cards for the spring quarter registration at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville may be picked up at the enrollment office beginning Monday, Jan. 31, according to C. B. Collier, assistant registrar at the university.

The enrollment office will be open Jan. 31 from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.; Feb. 1 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.; Feb. 2 and 3 from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.; Feb. 4 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.; and Feb. 5 from 8 a.m. until noon.

To obtain an appointment card, students must have in their possession their most recent fee receipt card (No. 3 card), Collier said.

Registration dates for the spring quarter will be announced later. Individuals interested in taking classes for the first time should make application immediately. They can obtain application forms in the Office of Admissions and Records.

REINHARDT—Realtor
Sells—BETTER LIVING!

Rev. 21:1... "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away: and there was no more sea."

The scriptures are true. All things spoken by prophets of old came to pass. There are some things yet to be fulfilled, but be assured God's plan is on time, all will come to pass.

A new heaven and a new earth? Yes, indeed, where there shall be no more death, nor sorrow, nor pain, nor crying, for God himself shall wipe those tears away!

Only the men who guide our nations could only see that nuclear warfare is not our greatest concern, but preparing to meet God!

A new heaven and earth is waiting for the believer. Will you believe? Today.

Hospital laboratory contains 6,300 square feet. The new and remodeled laboratory space will total 13,000 square feet.

Laboratory sections are biochemistry-automated and manual, hematology-coagulation-cell enumeration and morphology, serology, bacteriology, urinalysis, gross tissue and autopsy.

A new main entrance, lobby, business office, coffee and gift shop and admitting department—along with the new space for the ancillary services just described—will be built in a new one-story structure immediately adjacent to the Doctors' Wing (21st and Iowa streets area).

"St. Elizabeth's physical growth must remain parallel with its functional progression. If building space does not complement St. Elizabeth's increase in staffing, services and community coverage area, all aspects would grow disproportionately."

"In terms of the future, that could make a critical operational difference," Sister Isidore said in reviewing the hospital construction and renovation plans.

She noted that installation of a nuclear gamma camera in early 1975 marked the beginning of an active current period of medical development.

In April 1975, a completely automated chemistry instrument was added to the laboratory.

A successful nuclear pacemaker implantation in September 1975 was a milestone in surgery at the local hospital and was only the second of its kind in the St. Louis bi-state metropolitan area.

Also in September 1975, the hospital's x-ray department received a CCR senograph R. The x-ray unit, designed and used exclusively for mammographic diagnosis, was donated by the St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary.

In January 1976, the hospital's specialized obstetrics unit received a fetal monitor, a complete intensive chemistry instrument for select newborn cases, as an addition to its equipment line.

This highly sophisticated equipment also was donated by the Hospital Auxiliary.

Surgeon, an outpatient surgery program and a relatively new concept in health care, was offered by the hospital and its medical staff beginning in March 1976.

Then, in July 1976, the hospital here was the first in the Illinois portion of the St. Louis area to receive approval from the Illinois State Health Facilities Planning Board to purchase a total body x-ray unit (CAT scanner).

St. Elizabeth Hospital now has the distinction of being one of the few hospitals in the United States to have such a computerized radiological system. The cost of the CAT scanner is $500,000.

Surgery requiring total replacement of vital body joints was performed in mid-July. Two successful operations on separate persons were the first of their kind at the local hospital.

Not only does St. Elizabeth administer services within the hospital proper, but it offers a myriad of services community-wide, many of which are free, the board chairman pointed out.

The hospital's social service department makes possible professional evaluation and referral of persons experiencing social problems or psychologically-based illnesses.

Included in the department's services are cases involving alcoholism, child abuse, drug abuse, mental retardation, potential suicide, unwed mothers and nursing home placement.

Referrals include those to community agencies and psychological testing centers.

Other departments, pastoral care, for example, contribute to the hospital's philosophy of total patient care. Members of this department bear responsibility for the spiritual welfare of both the patients and the hospital's associates, it was explained.

Other free community services include the venereal disease clinic, the immunization clinic, pre-natal classes and diabetes classes.

The mobile meal program, in cooperation with community services, is another provision supplied by St. Elizabeth Hospital.

"We at St. Elizabeth Hospital are interested first and foremost in good health care for our community. The more we can offer in terms of community services, the better we fulfill our purpose here," the president, Sister Mary Thomas, said.

New 'Y' executive arrives

Paul L. Grennell has assumed the duties of executive director of the Tri-City Area YMCA.

Grennell is married, has four children and formerly was the director of the Northeast Family YMCA in Columbus, Ga.

"I have been in a lot of areas in 'Y' work, the Army and school, but in the few short days I have been here I can honestly say this is one of the friendliest places I have ever been," Grennell said.

"For awhile I intend to play a listening game. I need to find out the needs of the area and how the 'Y' can help meet these needs. I do believe the 'Y' needs to be more involved in planning in the community to help meet the social needs and issues."

"I think this will be a year of decision for the 'Y' here. We need to know where we will be five years from now. Should we be down town? Should we build a new building? We need to find our weak points and strengthen them," Grennell emphasized.

Grennell summed up his professional objectives: "To administer and guide the YMCA toward a financially-sound, family-oriented, people-serving agency. This is accomplished only when the overall direction of the YMCA is based on a concern for the specific needs of the community and the financial stability to provide them."

Grennell holds a baccalaureate degree in Community Planning and Urban Development from Columbia College, Columbus, Ga.

His experience includes program director, Central Branch 'Y', Columbus, Ga., and program and youth director, Ithaca, N. Y., YMCA. In the Army he was an administrative specialist in Special Services and an aquatic director with duties of training guard personnel, conducting water safety instructor courses and was the assistant coach of a swim team.

His hobbies include racquetball, aquatics and golf. Affiliations include American Institute of Planners, The American Society of Planning Officials, Georgia Planning Association and the International Racquetball Association.

McBride-Sadlowski debate on TV Sunday

Lloyd McBride, District 34 director and candidate for the presidency of the United Steelworkers of America, will confront his opponent, Edward Sadlowski, of the Chicago district on an hour-long live session before television cameras on NBC's network program, "Meet the Press," on Sunday, Jan. 30.

A four-man panel of prominent journalists will direct questions to the two candidates.

"It is the first time that McBride has had an opportunity to debate Sadlowski on national television. For months, Sadlowski has had the advantage of friendly questioners." District 34 Director-elect Buddy W. Davis commented Wednesday.

"McBride is hoping the panel members will ask tough questions involving the 'gut issues' involved in this hard-fought campaign for the presidency of the largest union in the AFL-CIO, representing 1.4 million members," Davis asserted.

TO MARRY. Miss Cindy Rea and her fiance Ritch Goldizen. Their engagement and plans for a June 10 wedding are being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldin Rea, 3216 Erin Drive. (Hollywood-Andrew Studios)

Goldizen-Rea engagement

The engagement of Miss Cindy Rea and Ritch Goldizen, a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Goldizen of Mayville, W. Va., is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldin Rea, 3216 Erin Drive.

Miss Rea is a graduate of Granite City High School South and is a part-time employee of the Cloverview Child Care Center.

Circuit breaker club topic

Mrs. Ruby Corbitt, president of the Kirkpatrick Golden Age Circle Club, announced the members are eligible to sign the circuit breaker program at the YMCA or at the Senior Citizen Center.

The president opened the monthly meeting of the group with a New Year's greeting followed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer and pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. Lumeta Durbin and Mrs. Peggy Gibbons submitted reports. Mrs. Caroline Lux reported sending get well greeting cards to Grace Green, Neva Werth, Arthur Whitworth, Ruby Corbitt, Rose Elmore, Nellie Hillmer, Orville Riess, Frances Westbrook, Ruby Obranovich, John Winklemeyer, Theresa Walkenbach, Emma Gobbie, and James Cotter.

Those who were ill during the holidays, Lee McClew, Cleve Curtright, Emma Tuppel and Emma Baumberger, received cards, Mrs. Lux added.

Mrs. Corbitt announced those who are to serve on various committees include Evelyn Davis, Edie Johnson, Clara Earney, Edith Youngs, Alva Stearns, Ethel Stark and Arthur Rankin.

The shuttle bus is now in service and anyone who needs transportation are advised to call the township office at 877-5585 a day prior to the trip for reservations, according to Edgar Paddock. Mrs. Corbitt introduced Mrs. Margie Hall from the YMCA, as guest for the day and those celebrating birthdays Arthur Rankin, Carmen Allen, Clyde Myers, Martha Page and Lumeta Durbin.

Members agreed to send a memorial to the Strippers Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Louis in memory of Mrs. Nettie Coon who died Sunday. After the meeting a social hour was held with games and prizes were won by Martin Schulte, Arthur Lindner, Arthur Rankin, Gladys Filter, Pauline Cox and Viola Lundeen. There were 28 members present.

The next meeting on Feb. 8 will be a pot luck dinner at 12 noon.

SPECIAL MEETING
John Henry Williams, president of the Madison Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), has called a meeting at 7 p.m. today at the Friendship Baptist Church, 301 Mercedia St., Venice. The meeting is open to the public and prospective members, according to Williams.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL SMOCK, whose wedding took place at Hope Lutheran Church. The bride is the former Miss Cindy Montgomery, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Meyer, 3846 John Glenn Drive.

Cindy Montgomery and Michael Smock are wed

Miss Cindy Montgomery, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Meyer, 3846 John Glenn Drive, and Michael Smock, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Smock, 2816 Buxton Ave., were united in marriage on Jan. 22 at Hope Lutheran Church.

The Rev. David Fielding performed a double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. Nuptial selections were played by Beverly Henderson, organist, prior to the service.

Given in marriage by her parents, the former Miss Montgomery, wore a full length gown designed with a V-neckline edged with a gathered ruffle, a high rise waistline defined with a wide waist band forming a point at the center front.

Her long sleeves were trimmed at the wrist with a matching lace ruffle.

A headpiece of lace and pearls secured her tiered mantilla veil of bridal illusion, which was encircled with scallop lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white pom poms intermingled with melon and rust color miniature pom poms festooned with matching streamers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Gary Willis selected a formal length spice color polyester halter gown fashioned with an A-line skirt. She wore a short hooded cape in spice hues lined with an apricot fabric.

She held a nosegay of rust and melon pom poms with greenery and tied with matching ribbons.

Victoria Alvarado, a niece of the bride, served as the flower girl. She was dressed in an apricot frock and wore a hooded jacket in spice color.

She carried a wicker basket filled with rust and melon blossoms.

Jody Crenshaw, a cousin of the groom, was the ringbearer. The groom chose Gary Willis as his best man. Otto Seebold and Rodney Jurgens seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Meyer, selected a pale blue floor length gown. The groom's mother, Mrs. Smock, was attired in a long sleeved beige dress. Both wore accessories to match their dresses and cybindium orchid corsages.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Long Lake Fireman's Hall, after the ceremony. Diane Smock and Sara Meyer attended the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Smock entertained the wedding party and families at a rehearsal dinner on the evening prior to the service.

Madison authorizes emergency insurance

The Madison City Council Tuesday night authorized Mayor Mike Saayk to purchase six months "emergency" insurance for the city to cover fire, auto liability and workmen's compensation.

The action was taken on a motion by Third Ward Alderman Ronald Grzywacz and seconded by Third Ward Alderman Ray Kotielek.

"We can not be without insurance for our employees and our buildings and I think we should move quickly on this," Grzywacz said.

The city received notification of cancellation of insurance by its present carrier last month, reportedly because claims have been too high.

Casper S. Nighossian, city corporation counsel and George Filcoff Jr., city attorney, reported that it is their combined opinion that the insurance companies could not cancel the insurance as two of the policies on fire protection were accepted by the company on a bid contract for three years and the time does not expire until Oct. 15, 1978.

"We have a hearing set Feb. 10 at 1:30 p.m. in Springfield with the director of the Illinois Department of Insurance," Nighossian said. "George Filcoff and I talked to representatives of the insurance department at Springfield, but I feel we will have to go through the courts."

"I believe that the extra insurance you are letting the mayor purchase is necessary until this is settled by the courts. The cost of the extra insurance and the legal fees will be part of the damages we will be asking in a suit."

Deputy injured

Madison County Sheriff's Deputy Lt. Gary Burns, 31, was injured when his squad car allegedly was struck from behind by the car of Russell Lewis, 21, of 2423 Morrison Road, 203 at the eastbound entrance ramp south of Interstate 270 at 12:05 a.m. Wednesday.

Lewis was issued a ticket for failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Burns was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pain to his side and a strain to his back and was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Another deputy who observed the accident said Burns' car was northbound with Lewis' car behind it when the squad car slowed down and Lewis' auto skidded on the ice into the left rear of the squad car. The squad car was knocked into the median.

KIWANIANS TALK RACES

Freezing weather has not deterred the Evening Kiwanis Club from planning its annual boat races Saturday and Sunday, July 23 and 24, according to Al Jessee, club president. The club spent its Tuesday evening meeting at Charles Restaurant discussing the races and planning a ladies' night during February. Jessee reported.

ROUGH ROAD AHEAD. Wabash Avenue resembles many streets throughout the area this week as deep chuck holes appeared, the result of the recent deep freeze, rapid thaw, salt and traffic. Street departments throughout the Quad-City area report they have not been able to keep up with the extensive road deterioration and are requesting motorists to use caution and watch the roadway ahead for holes. Offer student loans

The International Order of Odd Fellows, through its Educational Foundation, again is offering low-interest loans to students in business-related colleges and schools.

The purpose of the foundation is to operate a revolving loan fund and to gather information concerning help for students dependent in part, or wholly, on their own efforts for an education. The fund is supported entirely by donations. Any young person who is willing to conform to the rules and regulations of the foundation may apply for a loan, it was explained. The foundation asks that the young person write personally for an application, stating age and school classification. The maximum loaned for any one year of study is $1,000, except in the case of seniors who may borrow $1,500 if no previous financial obligations have been assumed. The rate of interest charged is four per cent. Payments begin three months after graduation or leaving school at the rate of $5 per month, plus interest, for the first year after graduation; $5 per month, plus interest, for the second year, and $5 per month, plus interest, thereafter until the loan is paid in full.

"The executive committee has been generous in helping work out satisfactory programs with borrowers who meet with unexpected difficulties," a spokesman explained.

Loans are made for study in any recognized school, after completion of high school, for any course offering immediate opportunity for employment—business, college, electronics, beauty culture schools, barber school, and others. Two or four-year college students must have established an acceptable record (one grading period, with at least a "C" average) in an accredited college or university before receiving loans. Nurses must have completed the probationary period of their training.

Since 1928, the Odd Fellows have made loans totaling over a million dollars. Loss from unpaid loans has been less than one per cent, the spokesman said.

Detailed information or applications for loans may be secured through the office of Executive Secretary, Educational Foundation, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Box 214, Connersville, Ind. 47331.

Skiing sites in state

Wondering where to find nearby skiing locations without having to hop a jet to Aspen or the slopes of Vail?

If your spare time fun seems landlocked, the Illinois Office of Tourism offers a free guide to downhill and cross-country ski areas as well as authorized snowmobile trails located throughout the state.

The new brochure details 14 cross-country ski sites that range from a 25-mile path along a 19th Century canal to scenic trails that lace through several state parks and conservation areas. Snowmobilers have a choice of nine major paths, one of which totals 45 miles.

For those who feel like gearing up for the spring travel season, there's also an updated guide to Illinois antique shops. "Make a Present of the Past," offers antique buffs tips on where and how to ferret out everything from a Shaker candlestick to a Victorian sofa. Also listed are nearly 100 flea markets, auctions and festivals slated for the coming year.

For more information on Illinois recreation and historic sites, Quad-Cityans may write: Illinois Adventure Center, 160 N. La Salle St., Chicago 60601; or, Illinois Office of Tourism, 222 S. College St., Springfield 62706; or, Illinois Office of Tourism, 2209 W. Main St., Marion 62859.

160 at Moose induction

Enrollment ceremonies for 16 new members were held during the weekend by Granite City Moose Lodge 272.

The ritual ceremonies were followed by a dinner-dance for 160 members and guests at the Granite City Moose Club, 19th and Adams streets.

Members of Cahokia Moose Lodge 423's ritual team were in charge of the induction services. Governor Fred Miller of Lodge 272 offered the welcome, and remarks were made by Walter Spears, Moose District 19 president, and Elmer Dintelman, past district president. Candidates inducted were Henry Beadle, Roy Criss, Leonard Baker, Ronald Holman, Golden Radford, Johnnie Rollins, Robert Harig, Harold McClannahan, John O. Pellazari, Ronnie Allison, Walter Nelson, Clarence Boyd, Frances Vaughn, David Hodge, John Pellazari and Dennis Wickam, who was selected class representative.

Music for dancing was provided by The Variations. Dinner was served by Women of the Moose Chapter 247.

Fiesta Mexicana planned Feb. 5

The Incorporated Mexican-American Government Employees Club (IMAGE) of the Metropolitan area will sponsor "Fiesta Mexicana," a benefit dance, Saturday, Feb. 5.

The dance is to be held in the Holy Rosary Church hall at 2716 North 4th St., off Route 40 in Fairmont City. Music will be provided by Los Hermanos Santa Cruz, a St. Louis group. Admission is $3 for adults and $1 for children. Funds raised by the dance will be used to further the candidacy of Baltasar (Bud) Luna of the local chapter for the office of national chairman.

GRAND OPENING NIGHT at the Solana Organ Power restaurant-theater in Solana Beach, Calif., finds Jack E. Jenkins of Granite City playing Bach to boogie on the Wonder Morton Theater Pipe Organ. Now director of music and youth at the Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave., Jenkins is a 1971 graduate of Granite City High and a June 1976 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The organ's four manuals and 21 ranks produces a rich melodious sound.

Talented organist returns to GC area

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
After fulfilling a four-month contract in California, Jack E. Jenkins has returned to Granite City and currently is director of music and youth at the Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave.

Jenkins, 23, was vacationing on the West Coast last summer, visiting relatives in Rancho Santa Fe, when invited to audition for Preston Fleet, president of Organ Power of California.

He impressed the executive to the extent Jenkins was asked to become a staff organist for the firm and to perform at the new Solana Organ Power Theater-Restaurant in Solana Beach, Calif., for its grand opening. The resort's community is about 35 miles north of San Diego.

The combination of Jenkins and the Wonder Morton Theater Pipe Organ proved highly successful.

The organ's rich melodious strains and Jenkins' musical talents, ranging from boogie to Bach, filled the entire theater, reaching into the restaurant and lobby area to entertain luncheon and dinner guests.

A native of Granite City, Jenkins attended grade school here and was a member of the school band when in the second grade. He began piano lessons at age 10, with Mrs. Jewell Everett of Granite City as his teacher.

About the same time in his young life, his parents took him to the "old" Fox Theater in St. Louis, which seated 4,800 persons. There, the boy heard Stan Kahn, widely-known organ virtuoso, perform on the huge pipe organ.

From that moment on, Jenkins related, he was "hooked" and Kahn became his inspiration and special hero. Jenkins said among his fond memories are of the weekends he rode the Washington streetcar, all by himself, to the theater to listen to Stan Kahn.

As a junior at Granite City High School South, the youthful musician began studying with Dr. Howard Kelsey at Washington University, St. Louis.

When he entered Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, he studied under the tutelage of Kathleen Thomerson. These teachers, Jenkins said, gave him the love, appreciation and respect for the organ.

During this time period, he also gained much practical knowledge working as an organist.

He was graduated in 1971 from Granite City High School and from SIUE in June 1976.

Music comes as naturally as breathing to him and has always been a part of his life, Jenkins commented.

USE PERMIT APPROVED
On the recommendation of the Zoning Board of Appeals at Madison, the City Council Tuesday night approved a special use permit for Robert Fuller to operate an auto upholstery business at 1031 rear Reynolds St., Madison. The permit specified that there can be no collection of auto parts or repair of automobiles or automobile bodies at the site.

Royal Rangers awards night

The Royal Rangers Outpost 73, sponsored by Tri-City Park Tabernacle, held its father and son awards ceremony last week at the church, featuring the Royal Ranger of the year in each group, slides of the 1976 Frontiersman Camping Fraternity National Rendezvous, followed by refreshments and games.

The boys in each of the four groups earn points in their weekly meeting on attendance, appearance, behavior, meeting participation, advancements and dues. Points are totaled at the end of the year for a first, second and third place trophy in each group.

Those receiving trophies in the Buckaroo Group are Tim Hutchison, first; Daryl Meyenburg, second and Jeff Freeman, third.
Pioneers, Tim Free, first; Daryl Long, second and Scott Eberhardt, third.
Trail Blazers, Steve Naler, first; Tim Free, second, and Keith Wilson, third.
Trail Rangers, Monte Naler, first; Jim Sieck, second.

Jerry Meyenburg, commander of the group, announced they will host a Chili Day on Saturday, Feb. 26, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the church, as a fund raising project. Cost of the dinner will be $1.50 for all ages with the exception of children under six who are accompanied by their parents will be served free.

PLAN PAPER DRIVE AT CHURCH THIS WEEKEND
Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave., will conduct a paper drive this Saturday and Sunday.

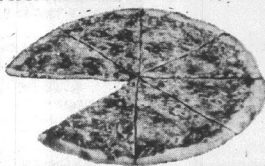

Its "purple paper eater" will be at the Garfield Avenue end of the parking lot behind the church. The public is being invited to bring old newspapers.

Landscaping workshop

In spite of all that fluffy white stuff that has been blowing back and forth across one's yard lately, the latest weather prognosis is that spring will be coming as usual this year. To get ready for the growing season, the Office of Conferences and Institutes at SIUE is offering a workshop on landscaping.

Sessions will begin Feb. 17 and continue through March 17, meeting on Thursdays from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. in Room 3316 of Peck Classroom Building. Instructor will be Paul Owens, superintendent of grounds at the university. Registration will be $12.

The course on landscaping is designed for the home owner or the apartment dweller who plans to move into a home this year and who would like to increase his or her knowledge of plants, their growing characteristics and requirements.

Topics to be discussed during the sessions include trees, flowers and the principles of landscape design.

Owens has had many years of experience working with plant materials, with special interest and expertise in the planting and care of many varieties of holly.

Additional information concerning the landscaping workshop or other workshops being offered at SIUE this spring may be obtained by contacting Bonnie Little, coordinator, Office of Conferences and Institutes, 692-2660.

Illinois farmers reorganize

The state board of the Illinois National Farmers Organization held a reorganizational meeting last week at the Holiday Inn-East in Springfield, Ill. to elect new officers and discuss forthcoming projects.

During the morning session a business meeting was held and a commodity report submitted. Kenneth Stremiau of Mendota, was elected as president during the afternoon. Other officers include Wallace Green, New Boston; Ray Clark, O'Dell; Hilder Mueller, Jacob, Dale Nass of Plymouth, Herbert Wilkens of Greenville and Frank Easdale of Coulterville, as trustees. Seventeen area farmers attended the meeting, according to Erwin Wein, president of the Madison County National Farmers Organization.

introducing Schnucks "Plain

Schnucks "Plain Talk Pricing" is a new and easy way to find real values that can help lower your total food bill. There are no games, stamps or gimmicks... just plain talk and real value savings. Just look for the red, blue and green real value tags throughout our stores. They point to the real value ways to save.

Real value... every day, every way... in every department. Real value in dollar savings and real value in friendly people... value that can't be measured in dollars, but is there just the same. Real value... that's what we're all about!

everyday real value: Our customers know that anyone can play the price game by lowering prices to attract customers for a short period. Our philosophy has always been different. The everyday real value concept takes the highs and lows out of price fluctuations and gives you a real value every day.

real value rebate: These are limited time savings which result from manufacturer's allowances... savings which we pass on to you for the length of the allowance period. Our buyers are constantly looking for real value rebates so that you save more when we buy for less.

real value special: These are the best buys we can bring to our customers by using our know-how to take advantage of big savings on seasonal items and by using our volume buying power to buy more for less. Because these real value specials are such great values... they can last for only one week.

3 zoning hearings

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct three on-site public hearings in Quad-City area townships Monday, Feb. 7, to consider requests for a rezoning and for special use permits.

The first hearing will be at 9:10 a.m. near 832 Thorgate Drive, Mitchell, where Virgil W. Jennings is requesting a special use permit to construct an accessory building and later a permanent building.

He also is seeking a permit to pasture two horses on the property. It is presently located in an R-3 single-family residential district in Chouteau Township.

The second hearing will be at 9:45 a.m. Feb. 7 on Terry Street in the Williams Subdivision of Venice Township where Leo Glasper and James T. Harper are requesting a permit to place a mobile home for up to five years. The property presently is in an R-4 single-family residential district.

The third hearing will begin at 10:10 a.m. Feb. 7 at 3425 Fairmont Ave., behind Fairmont Race Track in Nameoki Township, where Harlan Pervan wishes to rezone five acres from R-3 to a B-4 wholesale business district for a fencing installation business.

On national orthodontics committee

Dr. Joseph M. Sim of the SIUE School of Dental Medicine has been appointed to a national orthodontics board. He will serve a one-year term on the National Board of Orthodontics Pedodontics Test Construction Committee of the Council of the National Board of Dental Examiners.

Dr. Sim is chairman of the department of pediatric dentistry and orthodontics at the SIUE dental school. The Edwardsville resident received his B.S., D.D.S. and M.S.D. degrees from the University of Washington in Seattle.

He was in private practice in Twisp, Wash., and spent two years on the faculty at the University of Washington. Before coming to SIUE, he was an assistant professor at the University of Alabama. He spent one year as a major with the U.S. Army Dental Corps.

The author of numerous articles for professional journals, Dr. Sim is widely known for his work and writings in dental care for the retarded.

A fellow of the American Academy of Pedodontics, he also holds membership in the American Dental Association and the American Society of Dentistry for Children. He is a native of Leavenworth, Wash.

Lt. Berosky is reassigned

Lieutenant (j.g.) John M. Berosky, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Berosky, 2812 Wayne Ave., who has been at home on a 30-day leave, left during the weekend for training as a recruiting officer at NAS Pensacola, Fla., in a four-week course.

Beginning March 1, he will report to Columbus, Ohio, to assume his duties which include the Indiana and Kentucky area.

Lt. Berosky was in the ROTC program at the University of Illinois and received his commission as an ensign at graduation. He was assigned to the USS Robert E. Peary as gunnery assistant for two years and served as navigator for the last year aboard.

The ship was homeported in Pearl Harbor, but half of the tour was in three deployments to Subic Bay, Philippines, Taiwan, Korea, Hong Kong and Japan and a cruise to Alaska.

The local serviceman who was promoted to Lieutenant (j.g.) in January 1976, is a qualified surface warfare officer on the USS Robert Peary and also has served as a legal officer.

Art handicraft meeting topic

A program on decoupage, making sand pictures, string art, latch hook wall hangings and rugs, macrame and making waxed linen jewelry will be presented by Mrs. Sherry Clark from American Handicraft at a meeting Monday evening of the Granite City Association of Education Secretaries.

Mrs. Ethel Weiss, president of the group, presided at the meeting held in the Faculty Lounge at Coolidge Junior High School.

Reports were given by Secretary Irene Williams and Treasurer Barbara Lerner who noted there are now 62 active members.

Irene Karlebach and Vivian Hillen, co-chairmen of "Bosses' Night" reviewed arrangements for the event scheduled for March 31.

The Spring Conference of the Illinois Association of Educational Secretaries will be held in Springfield, Ill., April 15 and 16, at the Forum 30, according to the president.

Hostesses for the evening were Gladys Wallace, Helen Tomcoff, Betty Williams and Phyllis Pickrel.

Others attending were Lucille Caban, Juanita Craycraft, Barb Dickerson, Georganne Georgeff, Candy Kavula, Berta Milianis, Shirley Brown, Arlene Haldeman, Frieda Andrews and Catherine Wittverrongel.

The Feb. 28 meeting will be held at Grigsby Junior High School followed by a visit to the Spartan Health Spa.

Miss Strubberg is betrothed

The engagement of Miss Vicki Lynne Strubberg and Wayne Mormon is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mrs. Phyllis Strubberg, 2008 Bryan Ave., and Don Strubberg of Granite City.

Miss Strubberg is a student at Granite City High School South. The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mormon of Waterloo, Ill. He is employed at General Motors Co., St. Louis.

Plans for a Feb. 12 wedding are being completed by the betrothed couple and their families.

Mrs. Edith Ryan entertains club

Mrs. Edith Ryan, 2259 Grand Ave., entertained the Butterfly Card Club, Tuesday evening, and used a Valentine motif for the table appointments.

Members honored Mrs. Mary Lou Clausen and Mrs. Hazel Rollins on their birthdays and presented each with a gift.

Those excelling in the games and winning prizes were Mesdames Katy Hommert, Irene Willis, Thelma Schmid and Harriet Hoff. Also present were Juanita Rosenberg, Nell Talley and Lorraine Melciv.

Mrs. Clausen invited the group to meet in her home for the next meeting.

Practical Politics course starts

An "Action Course in Practical Politics" starts at 7:30 p.m. today at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave.

Course instructor will be R. Eric Robertson, a member of the Luaders, Robertson and Kosen law firm.

The seven-week workshop is being sponsored by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, assisted by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Material used in the course is provided by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D.C.

Persons interested in joining the series of weekly sessions are invited to contact Mrs. Rosalie Portell, BPW legislative chairman, at 874-4456 for further details.

The "Action Course in Practical Politics" serves as a useful guide for those who wish to increase their effectiveness in politics, Mrs. Portell said. It also points out recommended routes and warns of pitfalls and detours, she explained.

Workshop themes and the topics scheduled for discussion, include:

First workshop (tonight)—You and the Political Organization.

The role of individuals in politics—a discussion of political participation opportunities available to the individual. Why and how political parties are organized from the precinct up. Analyses why individuals are more likely to be effective in politics working through established parties.

R. ERIC ROBERTSON
Practical Politics Instructor

Second workshop—The Political Precinct: One Way to Get Started in Politics.

The precinct leader's and workers' role. Analyzes the tactics and strategy used by a precinct leader in getting voters in his precinct registered and to the polls.

Third workshop—The Political Campaign: A Second Way to Get Started in Politics.

How a campaign is organized and run; how to influence the undecided; how to raise money; election day activities; how to get out your vote; campaign follow-up.

Fourth workshop—Political Clubs: A Third Way to Get Started in Politics.

Covers the importance of manpower and training in politics. How and why clubs are organized; the relationship of the club to the party organization.

Fifth workshop—The Political Leader's Problems. Designed to develop an insight into some of the practical problems facing political leaders—selecting qualified candidates who can win; financing; intra-party problems; manning the precincts; training workers; patronage.

Sixth workshop—Political Meetings. Types of meetings particularly important in precinct work, campaigns, clubs, etc. How to plan, conduct and follow-through on effective meetings.

Seventh workshop—The Politicians Speak. A supplementary session designed to help course participants relate their political knowledge to the local scene. Local, county and state politicians are invited to discuss practical politics, and students are given an opportunity to raise questions and get further information on politics at the three governmental levels.

George K. Durbins to celebrate 50th year

Mr. and Mrs. George K. Durbin, 3129 Fehling Road, active in community affairs for many years, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house party Sunday, Jan. 30.

The affair will take place at the Tri-City American Legion Post 113 Hall, 1825 State St., from 2 p.m. until 6 o'clock, Sunday.

Mr. Durbin retired some years ago from General Steel Industries where he had been employed for 27 years. He also worked 16 years at Emerson Electric Co., St. Louis, and retired for a second time in 1972.

Mrs. Durbin was employed by General Sportswear Co., St. Louis, and the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. She retired in 1973.

Both have been a vital part of the Granite City Civil Defense and Auxiliary Police for many years.

Mrs. Durbin served as an auxiliary policewoman from 1948 until 1965. Her husband remains an auxiliary police sergeant and received chevrons, signifying 19 years service with the force in November.

They are members of Central Christian Church, Kirkpatrick Golden Age Circle Club, Keenagers Club, American Association of Retired Persons and Senior Citizens' Bowling Club.

Mr. Durbin held the post of constable for 20 years, being elected to that office from 1941 to 1961. He is a member of Masonic Lodge 677, Almad Shrine Temple, Tri-City Shrine Club and Scottish Rite Bodies.

He was on active duty with the U.S. Army during World War II, serving in the South Pacific theater.

The Durbins were married in the parsonage at Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church on Dec. 31, 1926, by the Rev. H. M. Fish. Mrs. Fish and Arthur Nelson, both deceased, were there attendants.

They have one son, Raymond

Durbin of Florissant, Mo., formerly of Granite City; grandsons, Dennis Durbin of Rock Falls, Ill., and Edward, Leslie and Dean Jolly, a granddaughter, Mrs. Eva May Scott and three great-grandchildren, all of Florissant.

Mr. and Mrs. Durbin observed their actual wedding anniversary date while vacationing in Hawaii during the New Year's holidays.

They were accompanied to the islands by Mrs. Durbin's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William (Mildred) Hawkins of Milledale, Mo., who also were celebrating their golden wedding day.

The Hawkins had resided in Granite City since their marriage in Belleville on Jan. 3, 1927, until moving to Middletown about 10 years ago.

Future Secretaries discuss employment

The Granite City Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association (FSA) met at South High School last week to discuss various programs and participate in a discussion by former members who are now employed.

President Mary Winfield presided at the meeting followed by a new procedure of taking attendance, with members signing in to denote their presence, rather than each name being called individually. The treasurer's report was presented by Elaine Goetting and faculty advisor, Judi Sparks, distributed sheets for the members to list their point-producing activities. This information is obtained at each session, and is used in determination of the winner of the Miss FSA Award and Miss Junior FSA Award, which is presented at the chapter's banquet in May, held with members of the sponsoring chapter, the Tri-Cities Chapter of The National Secretaries Association.

Several of the FSA members participated in taking inventory at the Venture store located on Highway 111, and Debbie Bushong spoke to the group about this experience. She commented on the fact that they were assigned to different supervisors in different departments who instructed the girls in the proper way to take inventory, and added that it had been an educational and enjoyable experience.

Past history in the life of the local FSA chapter, which is now in its seventh year of existence, has shown that one of the most popular programs is the one featuring a panel of FSA graduates who are working on their first jobs. With this in mind, the Board of Directors scheduled an FSA Alumni Panel for the January meeting.

Featured on the panel were Becky Batson, Nancy Bezan and Kathy Jones.

In commenting on how she obtained her job, which is one of the most asked questions, Kathy stated that she had first put in an application at Sherwood Medical Industries in St. Louis for summer employment when she was a Junior. Although she didn't receive the summer employment, her boss had her application aside for consideration for permanent employment because he noticed she was a member of the Future Secretaries Association, a fact she didn't realize until this past week when he discussed this with her. He stated that to him this indicated she was interested in secretarial work and that was her goal. Although Kathy is at present a statistical typist, she will be doing secretarial type work in the near future. Employees are not given a secretarial classification at Sherwood until they have worked there for over one and a half years.

The FSA members were interested in hours of work, and this varied in each girl's case. At Sherwood the employees work from 8:30 to 5 p.m. with an hour for lunch, and two 15-minute coffee breaks. Nancy Bezan, who works for Lindsay Construction Company in Granite City, and has been working there since she first began as a co-op student while in high school, mentioned that she works from 8 to 5 daily, with the exception of Thursdays, when she works just four hours. Becky Batson, who works for Irvin Slate, a local lawyer and assistant city attorney for Granite City, said that her hours of work vary. If Mr. Slate is in court and not in the office, she may work from 1 to 5 p.m., but normally she works from 9 to 5.

The advantages of working in a large office, such as Sherwood Medical Industries, compared to an office with a small work force, as experienced by Miss Bezan and Miss Batson were discussed. Nancy Bezan stated that she preferred the small office because it is a quieter atmosphere, very comfortable job, and she has grown close to the family that owns and operates the business. She knows what work she has to do, and is able to complete it with no interference from having to pause and answer a number of telephones, such as Kathy Jones must do on her job. Kathy mentioned that her phone has 17 pick-ups on it, that she must answer if the party being called is away from the office.

Each girl, now that she has had some work experience, wished she had taken a different subject in school. Nancy Bezan found that she needed shorthand on her job, and had to take it after she graduated in order to best fill the needs of the job. Kathy Jones is now enrolled in data processing, because she can use it on her job but didn't have it in high school. Becky Batson stated she was glad that she had had dictaphone experience because that was one of the questions she was asked in her three-day interview and

Parents Club Sweetheart ball

The annual Sweetheart Ball of Parents Without Partners, Granite City Chapter 470, will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. on Friday, Feb. 11, at the Croatian Home in Madison, according to the club president, Mrs. Evelyn Stephens.

Music for the evening will be provided by the Terry Dutko's Band and tickets costing $4.50 are available from any member.

The president reports other activities planned for February includes an adult dance on Feb. 4 at Panorama Bowl; board

Baptism service at St. Peter's

The Sacrament of Holy Baptism was performed Sunday, by the Rev. Robert Kettelhut, at the St. Peter's Evangelical United Church of Christ, for Erin Marie Thomas and Elin Gayle Thomas (granddaughters) and Tiffanie Ruth Hurt (great-granddaughter) of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Long.

Sponsors for Erin Marie Thomas were grandfather John T. Long and aunt Darlene M. Nicholas; sponsors for Elin Gayle Thomas were her brother Nicky Jateff and grandmother Ethel B. Long, and sponsors for Tiffanie Ruth Hurt were grandmother Sandra Burns and great-grandmother Ethel B. Long.

After the baptism, supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Long. Those attending including the above were, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Thomas, parents of Erin and Elin and Nicky, Stacia and Teri Jateff; Ellinda Hurt, mother of Tiffanie; grandmother Lucille Ross, Andrew Nicholas and children, Curtis, Duane, Alwayne and Deanna; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson; Mrs. Marta Amos and daughter Tracey Ruth; Rhonda Hurt and brothers Rusty and Charlie Burns and Richard Womach.

TYPING WHIZ. Renee Sharp, seated, receives congratulations from friends after becoming the first student in the history of Granite City high schools to set a 103-word per minute typing speed record for a five-minute timed writing. From left to right are Kathy Kosoyor, Pattie Gray and Cheryl Goodrich. The junior year typist is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sharp, 2620 Center St.

Sets speed typing mark

Renee Sharp, an 11th grade student at Granite City High School-South and a member of the Future Secretaries Association (FSA), has received special recognition for achieving a typing speed of 103 words per minute in a five-minute timed writing period. She is the first student in the history of Granite City high schools to achieve the 103-word per minute distinction, breaking all typing records previously set in accomplishing the feat.

Miss Sharp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sharp, 2620

Center St., was recognized and congratulated at an FSA meeting last week at South High.

The junior-year student tried her first typing experience six years ago when a brief course was offered in summer school to those pupils having completed the fifth grade.

At that time, she reached a typing speed of more than 40 words per minute.

Miss Sharp also is an accomplished pianist and organist, and is active in other school functions and church work.

ONLY AT SCHERMER'S... YOUR EASTER HAM IS FREE! AND HERE'S HOW IT WORKS:

Each week for the next 10 weeks, when you do your shopping at Schermer's (Minimum $20 Purchase), you'll receive a sticker to be pasted on this form in the correct place. At the end of 10 weeks (April 4-9), you will receive - ABSOLUTELY FREE - a fully cooked, top quality, boneless ham (7-9 lbs.) for your holiday enjoyment on Easter Sunday, April 10.

CAUTION - Do not leave the store without your sticker. Make sure you receive your weekly sticker. (Limit one free ham per customer.)

Should misfortune come your way and you are prevented from shopping at Schermer's during one of the 10 weeks, do not despair, you can still get the Easter ham for 9 stickers plus two dollars. If you are doubly unfortunate and miss 2 at Schermer's we will offer the ham for 8 stickers plus four dollars. This should take care of all the emergencies that might occur during the 10 weeks.

Either way, whether your ham is free or at a special price you save real dollars, just for shopping at Schermer's, where you always get the best deal. HAPPY EASTER AND HAPPY SHOPPING AT SCHERMER'S.

Volare Premier

Priced over $400 less than Ford Granada Ghia. That's quite a difference!

*Base sticker prices on comparably equipped models excluding taxes and destination charges.

There's a big difference in room. The 4-door Volare Premier has more room inside, totally, than the Ghia. In fact, it's got more interior room than any compact built in America.

And another difference will make sense... and dollars... to you. Based on a comparison of sticker prices Volare Premier with automatic transmission is priced approximately $400 less than a comparably equipped Granada Ghia. If $400 makes a difference to you, you just might want to look at the Volare Premier. It's got the room, comfort and price that make the difference.

*Base sticker prices on comparably equipped models excluding taxes and destination charges.

finished casting it, because air date for the debut segment is Feb. 12.

But, Marshall confesses, he's had one heck of a time casting a clutch of Vegas show girl types to appear with Nancy Walker in the new ABC-TV series.

"If we find a girl who can read four lines in a row, we write her name down," he says. "It's not that beauties are automatically dumb, Marshall hastens to add. The ones he auditioned just haven't had any experience, not in the arena of his concern.

"One had done four lines on a Red Skelton show," he says. "One had worked with a magician, and one had made an announcement at the Dunes." Approximately a month before its initial air date, "Mrs. Blanky's Beauties" not only didn't have a cast, it didn't have a script. But it did have Nancy Walker committed to the title role.

So Marshall said he wasn't worried.

"Pressure eliminates a lot of long discussion," says Marshall, adding that some of his greatest successes have been spur-of-the-moment inspirations.

Citing an example, he tells how at midnight one night after a long day on the "Laverne and Shirley" set, he was instructed to shoot titles for the show which to that point the public hadn't seen.

"Titles?" he demanded. "How am I going to shoot titles at 12:30 a.m.? What am I going to do for the titles?"

"Oh, just take the girls out in the street and shoot something," he was told.

Penny Marshall, the "Laverne and Shirley" star, is Garry's sister, but it was another sister who saved the day—or the night.

"Remember that funny walk we used to do when we were growing up?" she said. "You might do something with that."

So Garry instructed Laverne and Shirley to do "that funny walk" down a street on the Paramount lot, and that's what he filmed to introduce the series then absorbing.

"When we screened the show," he says, "they said, 'You know what we really liked was that funny walk the girls were doing.'"

Opponent is misleading Steelworkers—McBride

Lloyd McBride, candidate for president of the United Steelworkers of America (USWA), is asserting that his opponent, Ed Sadowski, "admitted under oath last week that he has misled steelworkers and the public about his campaign contributions, claims that he doesn't even know many of the contributors, cannot account for the origin of over $100,000 in cash contributions and accepted a $5,000 contribution from a mystery contributor."

McBride said his opponent made the admissions in a deposition taken under oath before a notary public in Chicago in connection with McBride's suit charging Sadowski with accepting campaign contributions from employers in violation of the union's constitution and elections manual.

McBride, director of USWA District 34, and to be succeeded as director by Buddy Davis, also said that his opponent has received a campaign contribution from a partner of one of Wall Street's leading investment banking firms—Randolph Compton, vice-president of Kidder, Peabody and Co., Inc., and a former executive of Republic Aviation.

When his opponent was asked during the deposition if he would accept a campaign contribution from an investment banker, his counsel, Leon M. Despres, instructed him not to answer, McBride alleged.

McBride said that other facts revealed by his opponent during the taking of the 144-page deposition included:

1. Sadowski admitted that he could not back up his claim that most of his campaign money came from steelworkers, although when not under oath he gave out specific figures.
2. Sadowski was forced to concede that a number of his campaign charges were false.
3. Campaign contributions were accepted by Sadowski without question.
4. He admitted that he did not know many of his contributors.
5. In relation to the charge that he is the "cocktail party candidate," he admitted that he had attended a number of cocktail party fund-raisers.

"It is obvious from his deposition that Sadowski has been telling one story on the campaign trail but he is telling the real story under oath as a result of my suit," McBride asserted.

"But this is not surprising from someone who advocates eliminating the jobs of 300,000 basic steel workers as he did in his Penthouse magazine interview," Sadowski has denied that he advocates job losses.

McBride emphasized that

Sadowski "did not open his campaign fund books as he had promised until I forced him to do so in court."

McBride said the "mystery contributor" who gave $5,000 is a "Jeffrey Zinsmeyer" of Washington, D.C. Sadowski testified that he did not know him or what he did for a living.

McBride said efforts to identify or locate the contributor have been unsuccessful.

"I guess he's just a wealthy non-person," McBride commented.

In his response to McBride's suit over Sadowski's allegedly illegal campaign contributions from employers, Sadowski said, "Most of the defendant's contributors are members of the United Steelworkers."

McBride cited the following excerpt from the deposition:

"Q. Now, can you tell us how it is possible to identify who in these (campaign contribution) cards are members of the United Steelworkers?"

"A. (Sadowski) No, I would not be capable of doing that."

"Q. Do you know whether or not there is any record that indicates who of your contributors are members of United Steelworkers?"

"A. No, I do not."

When asked if he could say what percentage of his contributors were USWA members, Sadowski testified that he could not, McBride said.

McBride also cited the following deposition excerpt:

"Q. Have you ever stated publicly a percentage?"

"A. No."

"Q. Have you ever made any claim publicly as to what percentage of people are contributing that are from the United Steelworkers of America?"

"A. No."

McBride alleges that Sadowski was quoted in news articles after he announced his candidacy that 80 per cent of his funds came from steelworkers, and also that Sadowski was quoted in the Chicago Sun-Times that he said in a news conference Jan. 9 of this year that 87 per cent of his contributions came from Steelworkers members.

"It does make a difference when you're under oath," McBride concluded.

Motor fuel tax funds allotted

Illinois municipalities have been allotted $11,584,012 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during December, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population.

Allotments to Quad-City area communities included $49,560 to Granite City, $8,358 to Madison, and $5,555 to Venice.

The DOT also announced allocation of $4,311,424 to Illinois counties, except Cook County, with $1,633,441 going to Madison County.

A total of $3,750,324 was allocated to Illinois townships and road districts. Of that amount, $46,580 was distributed to such districts in Madison County.

New program for Weight Watchers

Sandie Folender, area director for Weight Watchers in the metropolitan region, which includes the Quad-City area, has attended workshops and seminars acquainting herself with Weight Watchers' new food program.

The new diet program introduces such changes as cheeseburgers, yogurt, corn on the cob, hot chocolate, low-calorie puddings, jellies, salad dressings, toppings and other new additions to be used within specified limits, she said. Folender stressed that the new food program will make it difficult to distinguish the diet from the non-diet.

The changes in the program were made possible because of new foods in the market place plus new nutrition data. The changes were made by Weight Watchers' International nutritionists after consultation with lecturers, training directors and area directors, she noted.

The program is nutritionally balanced and consistent with recommended dietary allowances of the Food and Nutrition Board of the U.S. National Research Council.

Fire kills 3 as GC woman attends father's funeral

Mrs. Jesse (Lenore) Welty, 2240 Lincoln Ave., attended the funeral last week of her father, Arthur M. Miller, 70, of 820 Emma St., Poplar Bluff, Mo., and her niece, Mrs. Ruth Starr, children, Betty Jo, nine months and Jason, 2 years, all of Route 4, Poplar Bluff.

Mr. Miller, a native of Marshall, Ill., died at 5:30 p.m. Jan. 16 at a hospital in Farmington, Mo., where he had been a patient for two and a half years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Irene Miller; two other daughters beside Mrs. Welty, Mrs. Virgil (Bobbie) Graham of Tremont, Ill., and Mrs. Harry (Betty) Palmer of Amboy, Ill.; a son, Eddie McElroy of Wichita, Kan.; and a brother, Harry V. Miller of Granite City.

Mrs. Starr, 30, and her children died in a fire which destroyed their trailer home at 1:30 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 16. Also killed in the fire was Steven Faries, 23, of Poplar Bluff.

Two other children of Mrs. Starr, Denise and Michael Starr, suffered burns.

Denise, 10, remains in serious condition at the Burns Clinic at Columbia (Mo.) Hospital, with burns on over 40 per cent of her body. Michael, 8, sustained minor burns, but was not hospitalized.

According to a statement made by Denise, the fire occurred when one of the children left his bed, attempted to climb into the bed of another child and an electric heater overturned.

Denise tried to get her mother from a bedroom, but was unable to reach her. Mrs. Welty said. Meanwhile, Michael ran to the home of a neighbor who summoned the fire department.

Mrs. Starr is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Palmer; her children, Denise and Michael Starr; and her aunts and uncles.

Services were held in Poplar Bluff on Jan. 19 for Mrs. Starr and Jason and Betty Jo Starr. Mr. Miller's funeral took place there Jan. 20.

Rex Davis to interview national Scout president

Rex Davis, St. Louis newscaster, will interview Arch Monson Jr., national president of the Boy Scouts of America, Saturday, Feb. 5, in the Granite City High School North Cafeteria.

The event is the annual Scout Recognition dinner of the Cahokia Mound Scout Council which will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Davis is a holder of the Silver Beaver and his son, Frank, earned the Eagle Scout Award at age 15.

Davis is a 31-year veteran of KMOX. Long active in civic affairs, Davis currently serves as chairman of the Bi-State Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Rather than making the usual speech presentation, Boy Scout President Monson will be interviewed by Davis in a "theater in the round" situation.

The program will be open to the public. Tickets at $5 each must be purchased in advance and no later than Monday, Jan. 31.

Several local Scout volunteer leaders will be recognized for their contributions to the scouting program.

Highlighting the awards will be the presentation of the Silver Beaver, the highest award a local council may give a volunteer leader.

G. H. Sternberger, a member of the national Boy Scout executive board and an active volunteer in the local council, will serve as master-of-ceremonies.

22-part Victorian TV series

The Pallisers, a 22-part tale of Victorian love and politics, will premiere at 8 p.m. Monday, Jan. 31, on KETC-TV, Channel 9.

Based on a series of six novels by the popular 19th British novelist Anthony Trollope, the Pallisers relates the story of a political dynasty which moves through high society during the height of Queen Victoria's reign.

In succeeding generations, the men and women of this illustrious family taste wealth and power, as well as dander and scandal.

British actor Sir John Gielgud will host the series, with introductions and epilogues that place each episode in a historical context.

Susan Hampshire, three-time Emmy Award winner and star of public television's Forrest saga, portrays the beautiful and dynamic Lady Glancorva Palliser. Philip Latham plays Plantagenet Palliser, and honorable but ambitious politician.

In the first episode, Lady Glancorva McCluskie is entranced by the handsome Burgo Fitzgerald (Barry Justice), but yielding to pressure from her family, she enters a loveless engagement to Plantagenet Palliser, heir to the Duke of Omnium (Roland Culver).

The Pallisers was produced for BBC-TV and Time-Life Television, and is presented by WNET, New York, for national distribution by the Public Broadcasting Service.

$300 FIRE DAMAGE

Fire, believed started by a short in an electric heater, spread to a pile of rags and trash and caused an estimated $300 damage to the home of Ruby Printer, 2629 Saratoga St., early this week. Firemen were on the scene 20 minutes.

Youthful musicians to assemble

Talented junior and senior high school musicians will gather at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign during June and July for the 20th annual version of Illinois Summer Youth Music.

Prof. Dale Kimpton, head of the U. of I. Continuing Education and Public Service in Music, said application forms have gone out to music teachers and group directors to be distributed to their star pupils.

In 1976, a total of 1,693 students attended one or more sessions of ISYM.

Immediate application for the 1977 camps is advised, Kimpton said, so that students can get into the session and group of their choice.

The first application deadlines are March 1. Additional information and application blanks can be obtained by schools or individuals from Illinois Summer Youth Music, 608 S. Mathews Ave., Urbana, Ill. 61820.

Illinois Summer Youth Music is divided into two-week sessions, June 16-July 1; July 13; and July 17-29.

Included in the on-campus "camps" are junior and senior high bands, orchestras and choruses, and those specializing in oboe-bassoon, composing, flute, organ, piano, strings, wind instruments, percussion and jazz.

The conductors are from the School of Music, U. of I. at Urbana-Champaign, or are guests from other institutions. The coaching staff also includes U. of I. faculty, plus school music directors and instructors. Students live and eat in university dormitories.

Although Illinois Summer Youth Music is a rigorous educational experience, a recreational program is available in leisure hours.

During each period, mid-session demonstration programs and final concerts are scheduled. All are free to the public.

Fees for each two-week period are set at $180 including rooming, for those staying in the dorms, or $175 if no record is available for the student's particular group.

Participants are accepted on the basis of tape auditions and recommendation of their directors or private teachers. Many attend on scholarships from clubs, civic groups and other patrons in their schools or communities.

Nutritional anemias need not be

With all the claims being made by nutrient supplement ads these days, many consumers accept without proof the idea that a sizable number of Americans either have anemia or a condition bordering on it.

After all, don't most of us suffer from that depressed, tired, rundown feeling just once in awhile?

Studies suggest two groups—women of child-bearing age and infants—suffer from iron deficiency anemia most frequently, says Robert Reber, University of Illinois Extension nutrition specialist.

Demands of a developing fetus and menstrual losses of iron put a woman's iron status in jeopardy. Rapidly growing infants whose diets are restricted almost totally to milk undergo the hazards of iron deficiency anemia because milk is very low in iron.

Surveys saying how many people have anemia are conflicting because there is no single standard for defining anemia, Reber notes.

Even nutritionists disagree on "We Frame Everything!"

what level of blood hemoglobin constitutes anemia. Others question the use of hemoglobin levels for indicating this kind of anemia.

They suggest other techniques, such as measuring the amount of iron in bone marrow, as more accurate and reliable.

Some nutritionists warn that current trends in eating habits and food production may worsen the situation. As a nation, we are less active physically than before. This inactivity usually decreases the appetite, and decreased food intake means less chance to take in needed iron.

The increased development and use of fabricated foods is seen by some as a potential threat to iron intake as well as other nutrients.

Some studies are now under way to determine if fabricated foods contain similar amounts of all nutrients as the items they are supposed to replace in the diet.

And, finally, food is produced, handled and prepared under more sanitary conditions than ever before. So we may pick up less inorganic materials, including iron, from contamination of our food supply.

Even though iron deficiency anemia is a possibility, particularly among high-risk age groups, there is no need for self-prescriptions of iron supplements.

Iron-rich foods, such as meats (especially organ meats), dried beans, greens and prune juice go a long way in preventing problems for most people. A physician should be the one to diagnose and prescribe treatment for low blood hemoglobin caused by a lack of iron.

Actually, some people can get too much iron, Reber says. They suffer from a rare disease called hemochromatosis—a condition where excess levels of iron build up in the body and cause harm. Self-prescription of iron supplements for these people can be dangerous.

There are other anemias stemming from nutritional problems besides those caused by poor iron intake.

These may be caused by a lack of other essential nutrients needed for hemoglobin formation or maintenance of existing red blood cells, or even by poor intestinal absorption of these nutrients.

Good-quality protein, Vitamin B6, Vitamin B12, copper and folacin are some of the other nutrients whose dietary lack can cause anemia.

Before you go off running to the corner drugstore in search of the newest, multi-purpose, super-duper, combination vitamin-mineral supplement, wait a minute, Reber suggests.

Remember that all your body's nutrient needs can be easily met at your local supermarket. A varied diet from all four food groups still remains the safest, most economical and most enjoyable means of meeting your nutrient needs.

Senior Citizens set party

Plans to host a Valentine party on Friday, Feb. 11 at the YMCA were finalized during a monthly pot-luck dinner meeting of the YMCA Senior Citizens, held last week.

President Lucille Price opened the session with prayer and talking to the members in relation to the topic.

New members welcomed included Lena Wood, Gladys Hodges and Norma Rains.

Others present were Mae Findley, Anna Kuruz, Evelyn Stark, Marnie Stroud, Virginia Taylor, Gussie Pender, Augusta Jones, Mary Lou Lybarger, Tona Lynch, Bernice Caldwell, John Polson, Carmen Allen, Martin Schutz, John Winklemier.

Irma Cotter, Florence Paul, Ruby Mayberry, Naomi Burnett, Vina Low, Naomi Rongey, Sylvia Mileham, Katherine Todoroff, Milomera Gruber, Albert Milschorn, Nola Winney, Stella Bienenbeck, Blanche Scantling, Marge Hall, Della Robb and Grace Padock.

Game sessions are held at the "Y" every Wednesday at 1 p.m. for all area senior citizens, the president announced.

Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Padock, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Huber, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hacke, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stiltz, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Frohardt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Youngs, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. John Lerch, Mrs. Leona Cartwright, and Mrs. Raymond Dix.

Tax break for all

There's some good news for taxpayers preparing their returns this year from the Internal Revenue Service — a tax break for everyone who pays federal income tax. Last year's special tax credit has been extended for another year, which means lower tax for all this time around.

"Actually, the credit was more than extended. It was renamed the General Tax Credit. And the dollar amounts have been upped, so you'll be getting more this year than last," a spokesman said.

"Under last year's provisions, you could claim $30 for yourself and each dependent. This year, however, you have a choice.

"Claim $35 per person or take a credit of two percent of your first $9,000 taxable income (up to $180), which ever gives you the larger credit.

"Here's an example of how it works: suppose you're married and have three children, and a taxable income of $12,000.

"Figuring your credit at the rate of $35 for yourself and each dependent would total $175. Not bad, but using the other method of figuring it, taking two percent of your first $9,000 taxable income, would result in a credit of $180. So, the two percent formula would result in a $5 advantage in this situation.

"Single people can figure the credit the same way. In most cases, it's to their advantage to use the two percent formula, since otherwise they would only be entitled to a $35 credit.

"A single person with taxable income of $9,000 would be able to claim a credit of $180, the same as the family of five in the example above.

"The General Tax Credit is a good tax break but there are some conditions that you should keep in mind. This is a credit against your tax. If you have no tax or less tax than the amount of your credit, the credit does not turn into a refund that otherwise would not have been due.

"Here's a case in point: after claiming your usual deductions and exemptions, your tax is $200. Your General Tax Credit, however, amounts to $210. Your credit would be applied toward your $200 tax and the $10 difference would not be considered in determining any refund due you.

"Another condition is that married taxpayers filing separate returns may not claim more than $90 on their separate returns (two percent of the first $4,500 of taxable income).

"If one spouse chooses the two percent formula, the other spouse must also do so. In some cases, this may result in a lesser credit than if a joint return is filed.

"In this case, the taxpayers must determine if it is more favorable to file jointly and use the two percent formula or file separately and use the $35 per person option, under which each spouse may claim a $35 credit for himself and each dependent that each is entitled to.

"If you're still confused, don't panic. All the details are right in the instructions that come with your tax package. And adequate instructions are on the tax forms themselves to show you, step-by-step, how to claim your General Tax Credit," the IRS spokesman continued.

"Your tax package also has information on some other changes that can affect your taxes.

"For instance, the provision for excluding sick pay tax has been eliminated and replaced by a more restrictive disability income exclusion.

Herbicides recommended for 1977 area corn crop

About 95 percent of Illinois corn ground is now treated with one or more herbicides, Marshall McClanery, University of Illinois Extension agronomist, reported at the Madison County Agronomy Day.

In recent years there has been a significant trend from banding to broadcasting, the gathering was told.

Herbicides can help battle weeds, but they are not considered the complete answer. "Herbicides sometimes do not control weeds as well as you would like. And, occasionally, herbicides may injure the crop they are used on or the next year's crops," McClanery said.

"However, you can improve your chances of success and minimize risks by carefully selecting your herbicides and rates, applying them properly, and taking appropriate precautions."

Following are the pre-plant herbicides suggested for use in 1977:

"Sutan+ plus atrazine has been popular for preplant incorporation. It can control annual grasses and most annual broadleaf weeds including smartweed. It is one of the better combinations for control of velvetleaf if adequate rates of atrazine are used. Sutan+ can be used alone preplant and followed by another approved pre-emergence or post-emergence herbicide for broadleaf weed control later.

"Eradicane is generally preferred over Sutan+ if there are special weed problems such as Johnsongrass seedlings, wild cane or nutsedge. It can also be used for control of quackgrass, where you prefer more flexibility in cropping sequence

"The law has also been tightened up on claiming an office in the home and deducting expenses related to a vacation home.

"On the other hand, you might stand to benefit from a new credit for the care of a child, disabled spouse or disabled dependent while you are at work."

"And older Americans will want to take a look at a new tax credit figure on income received when they are 65 or over. All of these can mean a smaller tax bill.

"Although these new provisions are detailed in the tax package instructions, if you want more information, your tax package contains an order blank to request free IRS publications devoted to the various subjects."

than that allowed by high rates of atrazine Sutan+ and Eradicane each contain an agent that reduces but does not completely eliminate the possibility of corn injury.

"Atrazine may be preplant incorporated within two weeks before planting. Incorporation may improve effectiveness if rainfall is delayed. However, if rainfall is adequate, surface application may give more uniform weed control.

"Preplant atrazine may be used to lengthen control where earlier applications are desired, and the combination can help improve control of fall panicum and crabgrass.

"Since simazine (Prencip) may persist a little longer than atrazine, the risk of herbicide residues may be increased—especially with later applications.

"Lasso preplant incorporated at a fairly high rate is one of the better treatments for control of nutsedge. Where nutsedge is not a problem, Lasso may be applied to the surface without incorporation.

"By using a combination of Lasso plus atrazine, broadleaf weeds as well as annual grasses can be controlled.

"Bladex plus Sutan+ is also available for preplant incorporation for corn. This combination allows considerable flexibility in crops the next season, as no significant residue is expected. However, incorporation may reduce effectiveness of Bladex and there is some risk of corn injury when conditions are unfavorable."

Safety-health law defects are alleged

"Instead of inspectors, send instructors."

That's what a spokesman for Illinois small business men and women told federal officials Monday afternoon at a Chicago area public hearing on the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA).

Leonard Day, labor relations manager of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, testified on problems small businesses have with OSHA. The joint hearing was conducted by OSHA and the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Day said complaints he has received regarding OSHA from the State Chamber's small employer members range from the general ("Those OSHA standards are bigger than my suburban phone book. How could I possibly ever know what's expected of us?") to the specific ("I started this business less than two years ago, and I've already had three OSHA inspections. Can't they find somebody bigger than me to pick out?")

About 85 percent of the members of the statewide business organization have fewer than 200 employees. "The problems begin with excessive paperwork and extend to decisions concerning the purchase of terribly expensive equipment and/or costly renovation of facilities," Day said.

"All too often, members have protested that they were forced to make changes to comply with an OSHA standard, and yet the job or facility would up being no more, or less, safe than it had been.

"We strongly urge more emphasis on training, attitude and education. Instead of inspectors, send instructors."

"Teach employers how to effectively use their accident records, run safety programs and change work habits and attitudes to encompass the safety factor. Somehow, the spotlight has to be swung from the machine and materials to the man."

Day also urged simplification of the procedure in getting a variance from an OSHA standard. He said difficulties and time involved in the present procedure are the subject of frequent employer complaints.

Day was accompanied by two small employers who related specific personal experiences with OSHA. They are Roy Diamond, Malco Electric Co., Morton Grove, and Frank DiCanio, president of FDC Drafting Aides Corp., Elk Grove Village. Diamond is chairman of the OSHA committee of the Electrical Contractors Association of Chicago, and DiCanio spoke for other small business members of the State Chamber.

Energy hearing in area Feb. 4

"Illinois must save five per cent of all energy consumed by 1980 or lose $2 million of federal assistance," reports an official from the Division of Energy, Department of Business and Economic Development. "The Division of Energy wants Illinois citizens to tell them how to do it."

Public hearings are being held throughout the state to hear what energy conservation programs citizens of Illinois would like to develop.

It is estimated a state plan could realize a potential 25 per cent energy saving.

The U.S. Energy Policy and Conservation Act of 1975 says that every state must have a plan which will include a 5 per cent energy saving by 1980. In return, the states will be eligible for federal financial assistance to pay for some of the energy conservation programs they prepare.

Illinois can receive $2 million a year through 1980 if the plan is submitted by April 28 of this year. Copies of an Illinois Conservation Feasibility Report are available throughout state libraries and an executive summary of that report can be obtained through the Division of Energy Office.

This summary describes what federal mandatory energy conservation measures must be included in the state plan. In addition, some optional conservation programs are described.

A local area public hearing will be held in the Collinsville Building and Loan on Friday, Feb. 4, 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Hearing testimony must be scheduled through Richard Worthin, Collinsville coordinator, telephone 465-0183.

Written testimony may be sent to: Public Hearings, Division of Energy, 222 S. College, Springfield 62706.

Funds for graduate students

Applicants for a number of special graduate awards for students of high academic ability are being sought by the Graduate School of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

David G. Brown, assistant dean of the school, said the awards provide a tax-free stipend of $200 per year and a remission of tuition for the academic year.

Intent of the awards is to recognize and encourage students who have shown outstanding potential, as revealed through past academic records, letters of recommendation, and other evidences of outstanding achievement.

Brown said the Graduate School anticipates that the awards will aid in the identification and motivation of outstanding students from other universities, as well as SIUE.

He said special graduate awards are presently held by degree-seeking students in art and design, biological sciences, English language and literature, geography, government, historical studies, music, nursing, philosophy, psychology, sociology, speech pathology and audiology, and theater and dance.

Applicants should have a 4.3 overall undergraduate average (A equals 5.0) and be prepared to initiate or continue graduate studies on a full-time basis.

Each applicant must secure an application for admission to Graduate School and a special graduate award application from the Graduate School Office, Room 2202, John S. Rendleman Building. Applicants must be admitted to a specific graduate program and to the Graduate School during the period of the award.

Brown urged interested individuals to promptly secure and complete applications. Deadline for receipt of all necessary application materials is March 4. Successful applicants will be informed by April 8.

How many sheep can a sheep shearer shear?

By RON CORNWELL

Madison County

Agricultural Adviser

Enrollment is now open for the 1977 sheep shearing schools.

Schools will be held in four locations this year.

The two schools closest to this area are March 25 and 29 at the University of Illinois sheep farm in Urbana and March 30 and 31 at the Dixon Springs Agriculture Center sheep farm.

Any person who has not previously attended is eligible to attend.

The main requirement is an interest in learning how to shear sheep.

The enrollment fee is $6. The deadline for enrollment is March 1.

Students interested in enrolling should contact their vocational agriculture teacher.

Other persons interested may contact their University of Illinois Agricultural Extension Service office.

Fifty-nine bulls will go on the auction block Saturday, Feb. 12, at the ninth Illinois Beef Performance Testing Bull sale.

The sale will be held in the sale barn on the Illinois State Fairgrounds, Springfield, and will begin with a parade at 11:30 a.m.

Bulls to be sold include 33 Angus, 14 Polled Hereford, seven Simmental, four Charolais and one Polled Shorthorn.

In performance tests, forty-one of the bulls gained more than three pounds per day and three of the bulls gained over four pounds per day.

Most of the bulls have a 365-day adjusted weight of over 4,000 pounds.

Catalogues and additional information about the sale can be obtained by writing Tompkins, Sales Manager, RFB, Box 60, Colmar, Ill. 62227.

Bob Hosten, University of Illinois Extension agronomist, reports that fertility "quacks" continue to exploit farmers even though the fertilizer shortage has eased.

He says the number of letters, calls and promotional leaflets put out by "quack" fertilizer salesmen is increasing. But these "quacks" are easy to spot — if you watch for them.

They often claim their product is more efficient, or requires lower application rates, or that the product makes nutrients in the soil more available.

Sometimes they say their product doesn't contain strong acids that kill soil bacteria and earthworms. If you really question these salesmen, you'll discover they can never offer real proof of their product's value.

"They'll quote a farmer you don't know, or say they work, while quickly adding that it does."

If you must purchase fertilizer from a dealer you don't know, or a company you haven't dealt with, Hoft recommends comparing the cost of actual plant nutrients the product contains with the cost of the same nutrients in standard fertilizer.

When you buy fertilizer, you're really buying pounds of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. And you should base cost comparisons on the cost of these nutrients.

University research has found no materials more effective when compared on an equal-nutrient basis than fertilizer materials currently recommended by the University of Illinois.

1. Sufficient quantity of good quality, wholesome food and water.

Law requires protecting animals from bitter cold

While most Illinoisans are more than well aware of the bitter cold, they can almost always come to it from it. Many animals are not so lucky.

Dr. David Bromwell, Illinois Department of Agriculture, who administers the Humane Care for Animals and Animal Welfare Act, says the extreme cold poses special problems for animals and those who care for them.

What's more, he adds, negligence of these problems to the point where animals are hurt or abused could result in criminal prosecution of those responsible.

"Whether it's livestock or the kids' little puppy, all animals are affected," the veterinarian said.

"Already, the Illinois Department of Agriculture and those people interested in the quality of care extended to our domesticated animal population are being literally deluged by complaints from interested citizens," Dr. Bromwell said.

The department has administrative responsibility for the Illinois Humane Care for Animals Act, which provides that each owner shall provide for each of his animals:

1. Sufficient quantity of good quality, wholesome food and water.

2. Adequate shelter and protection from the weather.

3. Veterinary care when needed to prevent suffering.

4. Humane care and treatment.

"If an animal is not being fed an ample amount of satisfactory food or receiving adequate amounts of water, it cannot possibly endure the present severe weather," Dr. Bromwell said.

"Water, warm enough to drink, is especially important. The animals must also be afforded proper shelter to protect them from the rigors of the wind, snow and sub-zero temperatures.

"There is no obligation for anyone to have a dog, cat, horse, pony or other animal, but if a person has an animal, he also by law has assumed the responsibility for proper care of those animals."

Dr. Bromwell emphasized that anyone who is unsure of how his animals should be treated, or what precautions should be taken in the severe weather, should check with a veterinarian or a local animal welfare agency or humane society.

He said persons knowing of animals which are not being properly cared for may contact the Animal Welfare Section, Illinois Department of Agriculture, State Fairgrounds, Springfield 62706, telephone 217-782-6657, or their humane agency which works with the department.

Traffic light dispute renewed

A long-stalled dispute between Nameoki Township and the city of Madison may be stirred up again over a $875 repair bill for damages done to crossing signals at Sixth Street and McCambridge Avenue.

Since the lights are half in the city and half in the township, a dispute arose over who should pay for installing and maintenance of the lights.

In December 1975, the township paid the city of Madison $6,791 for half the cost of installing and maintaining the lights—thus ending a dispute nearly seven years old.

However, in September 1975, while the disagreement was still unresolved, a motorist from Michigan knocked over the crossing lights on the east side of the roadway, in Nameoki Township, and the State Highway Department called R. Dron Electrical Co. to repair the lights.

That $875 repair bill has never been paid, since Dron did not have a contract with the state for repairing lights and crossing signals.

When the township agreed to pay for half the cost of maintaining and installing the lights in December 1975, the repair bill for the accident had not yet been presented to the city of Madison, so it was not included in the maintenance cost.

Early in 1976, the State Highway Department agreed to take over maintenance, ownership and liability for the crossing lights, but has refused to pay the repair bill, since the September 1975 accident occurred before that takeover.

Madison contends Nameoki Township is responsible for the bill, since the lights which were damaged were on the Nameoki Township side of the street.

Nameoki Township contends the cost should be divided among the township, the city and the Madison School District.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsett suggested a meeting be arranged between officials of the township, city and school district to discuss sharing the repair cost.

The township's attorney, H. Carl Runge Jr., suggested the highway department's attorney investigate means of suing the motorist to recover the repair costs. He said the motorist can be served the necessary papers through the Michigan secretary of state's office, if sufficient information on the motorist was obtained at the accident scene.

He suggested Highway Commissioner Albert Bell request his attorney to study the matter before any meetings are arranged.

Police dance to aid Post 255 Explorers

The Pontoon Beach Police Department will sponsor a dance on Saturday, April 16, at the Stardust State Center, 3967 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach.

Tickets are $15 per couple. All proceeds will be donated to the Explorer Post 255 sponsored by the police department.

The Bob Kuban Band, nationally known for "The Cheater" and other hits, will provide the music.

Tickets are on sale at the police department in Pontoon Beach, from Pontoon Beach policemen and from Officer Glenn Wright in Granite City, and Donald Bridick, William Weidner and W. F. "Mick" Strange in Madison.

The Explorers are planning a trip to Colorado. According to Mrs. Mary Warren, village clerk and associate adviser of Post 255, the trip will cost $1,500 not counting personal expense money for the members.

Sgt. Harold Denham is the post adviser.

Lutheran High School board to meet today

Seven Lutheran congregations, including Concordia Lutheran Church of Granite City, have formed an association to support establishment of a Lutheran High School in this region and will hold the first board of directors meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at Concordia Lutheran Church here.

Don B. Cochran, chairman of the Metro-East Lutheran High School Feasibility Study Committee, said final results of a study to determine the feasibility of establishing a high school have been presented in recent weeks to Lutheran congregations throughout the region.

The seven Lutheran congregations formed the association as a result of the study. These include Concordia of Granite City, St. Paul's in Wood River, Holy Cross in Collinsville, Unity in East St. Louis, Trinity in Edwardsville, St. Peter's in Caseyville and St. John's in Maryville.

Cochran, of Collinsville, said the study was undertaken at the direction of Missouri Synod Lutheran congregations to examine such areas as: objectives and goals of such a school, location, curriculum, costs and the extent of support for a high school. The committee is made up of members from various congregations and has been studying the potential of a high school for two years.

He said that the goal of the study committee is to aid young people "to grow in their faith and aid them in doing that which faith requires."

In striving toward that goal, Cochran added, considerable time was spent by the committee with such questions as: Why consider a Lutheran High School? What can a Lutheran High School accomplish? How many students would attend the school? Where should it be located? How should the school be financed?

He said the committee has presented its findings to most of the Lutheran congregations in an area bounded by Belleville on the south, East St. Louis and Granite City on the west, the Alton-Hannibal area on the north, and Troy on the east.

Quadrants seeking additional information may call or write to: Don B. Cochran, chairman, 505 Camelot, Collinsville, Ill., 62234; phone (618) 345-1741.

Chouteau delays action on sale of tax warrants

The Chouteau Town Board of Auditors Monday night refused to approve the sale of two tax anticipation warrants for $20,000 each needed by Highway Commissioner James Estes.

In refusing to approve the warrants, the board noted Estes had not contacted his attorney to amend his budgets, which would allow the $40,000 to be spent.

In the last annual audit report, the accountants suggested the town board refuse to approve all bills in excess of budgets, or they may be in violation of state statutes.

When Estes requested permission from the board at its last meeting to prepare tax anticipation warrants, the board requested he contact his attorney for advice on the warrants and how to properly amend the budgets so the $40,000 could be spent without exceeding the budgets.

Estes appeared Monday night with the warrants, but the process of amending the budgets had not been started. The trustees instructed him to return to his attorney before the next board meeting and have the budgets amended, so the money could be spent.

It was noted Estes already has bills in excess of his budget in several places, including the materials category in the road and bridge fund.

In other business, the board approved a $28,316 partial payment to Wilson Construction Co., Godfrey, for work done recently on a combination town hall and community center behind the Midwest Motel.

Mrs. Patricia Polley, town clerk, notified the board that the township has received $46,482 in Community Development funds set for Feb. 7 and 21, and for March 7 and 21.

The $46,720 for which it had applied, initial indications had been the township may only be approved for $31,000, so the receipt of the $46,482 was welcome news, she said.

All of the township's Community Development and revenue sharing grant funds are being used for the new building, which is being constructed at no direct cost to the taxpayers. A highway department garage previously was constructed with the same financing.

Estes Monday night rejected a suggestion from the insurance company insuring the township garage to increase the coverage from $37,000 to $42,000. He noted financial difficulties in the highway department and said he felt $37,000 would be sufficient.

Future board meetings were set for Feb. 7 and 21, and for March 7 and 21.

State moving to solve penal system's 'crisis'

Governor James R. Thompson has outlined a plan to deal with the "unprecedented crisis within the state's penal system."

During a Springfield news conference, the new governor announced that Charles Rowe, 36, will be retained as acting director of the Department of Corrections and Charles English, 39, will be deputy director. English is superintendent of the Cook County House of Corrections.

In addition, Thompson named Daniel Weil as special assistant to the governor on corrections. Weil, 36, will take a 90-day leave of absence from the Chicago law firm of Winston and Strawn to help carry out the governor's program.

Citing a 50 per cent increase in the state's inmate population within the last two years, Gov. Thompson identified several areas for immediate action to deal with the problem.

The governor directed his team to begin work on the following:

1. Review of major litigation suits challenging conditions in the state's penal institutions. Gov. Thompson said that in cases where it is felt the plaintiffs are correct, he will direct all concerned to move quickly to alleviate the deficiencies.

2. Investigate charges of racial discrimination within the system and correct it where it exists.

3. Establish a task force to study the overcrowding in state institutions.

4. Study the feasibility of opening a 400-inmate, medium security facility at Menard Penitentiary within 30 days. This facility is currently under rehabilitation, and an affirmative decision has been reached.

5. Study the feasibility of rehabilitating a 200-inmate, adult diagnostic facility at Joliet within three months.

6. A feasibility study, ready within 30 days, for a pre-release center in the Chicago metropolitan area. The facility would be used for transfer of inmates from other institutions who will be released within four months, or for whom the Parole and Pardon Board has set a specific date for parole.

7. A plan for conversion of juvenile centers to medium security institutions for non-violent offenders. Gov. Thompson stressed this would only be done at no risk of community safety.

8. A feasibility study on the conversion of other state facilities to correctional centers, including mental health centers.

9. Stepping up the construction of a 1,000-bed unit at Stateville Penitentiary.

10. A study of the possibility of expanding the prison industries program. Gov. Thompson said this would cut down on "dead time" in institutions, lessening tensions and increasing the effectiveness of rehabilitation programs.

11. A review of the classification process within the state's penal institutions to insure that weaker, non-violent inmates are not placed with more hardened, aggressive inmates.

Power failure stops clocks

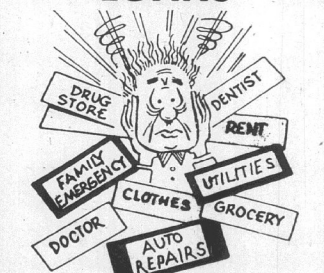

Several hundred residents of Granite City and Pontoon Beach had their electric power service interrupted for about an hour around 5:30 a.m. Tuesday.

An Illinois Power Co. spokesman said that a "flashover" on a cracked insulator may have tripped the transfer bank on a 34,000-volt system at the Parkview substation.

It took workers about an hour to change the affected system to another system and restore power.

Many residents woke up with their electric clocks running an hour behind time.
